INTRODUCTION

The twenty-ninth annual New York State Tax Expenditure Report has been prepared by the Department of Taxation and Finance and the Division of the Budget and is submitted in accordance with the provisions of Section 181 of the Executive Law.¹ The Executive Law defines tax expenditures as “features of the Tax Law that by exemption, exclusion, deduction, allowance, credit, preferential tax rate, deferral, or other statutory device, reduce the amount of taxpayers’ liabilities to the State by providing either economic incentives or tax relief to particular classes of persons or entities, to achieve a public purpose.”

As required by statute, the Report includes:

- An enumeration of the tax expenditures (Section IV) associated with the:
 - Personal Income Tax (Article 22 of the Tax Law)
 - Corporate Franchise Tax (Article 9-A of the Tax Law)
 - Insurance Tax (Article 33 of the Tax Law)
 - Corporation and Utility Taxes (Article 9 of the Tax Law)
 - Sales and Compensating Use Tax (Article 28 of the Tax Law)
 - Petroleum Business Tax (Article 13-A of the Tax Law)
 - Real Estate Transfer Tax (Article 31 of the Tax Law);
- The provisions of law authorizing the tax expenditures, their effective dates, and where applicable, the date that such tax expenditures expire or are reduced (Section IV);
- Estimates (if reliable data are available) of the costs of the tax expenditures for the current taxable or calendar year and the five preceding years (Section IV);
- An analysis of tax expenditure proposals included in the Governor’s 2022-23 Executive Budget (Section VI); and
- Cautionary or advisory notes regarding the use of the Report and data limitations (Section II).

¹ Section 181 of the Executive Law provides that any information relating to tax expenditures furnished by the Commissioner of Taxation and Finance be furnished in accordance with the secrecy provisions of the Tax Law.

INTRODUCTION

As provided in prior years, the report also includes information that summarizes:

- Tax expenditures that appear in more than one Article of the Tax Law, i.e., “Cross-Article Tax Expenditures” (Section V); and
- State legislation enacted in recent years that resulted in the addition, deletion, or modification of various tax expenditure provisions (Section III).

The report also includes the following additional information:

- A glossary of terms used in this report (Section VII).

USE OF THIS REPORT AND DATA LIMITATIONS

As defined by the Executive Law,² tax expenditures in this report are defined as “features of the Tax Law that by exemption, exclusion, deduction, allowance, credit, preferential tax rate, deferral, or other statutory device, reduce the amount of taxpayers’ liabilities to the State by providing either economic incentives or tax relief to particular classes of persons or entities, to achieve a public purpose.” This definition is less subjective than an approach that defines tax expenditures by first defining a normal tax structure because it avoids judgments about what constitutes “normal.”

This report does not purport to offer an official list of tax expenditures. Rather, it describes as many tax expenditures as possible and provides revenue estimates for as many provisions as can be isolated and measured. Where applicable data is available, tax expenditure estimates generally cover five historical years. Forecasted estimates project the cost of a tax expenditure as reflected in the Tax Law as it was in effect on January 1, 2022. The forecasted estimates do not reflect changes proposed in the Executive Budget. A description of the Executive Budget Tax Expenditure proposals is included in a separate section of this report. As a result of new or improved information, the estimates may differ from those published in previous reports. The estimates in the report do not reflect the impact of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) surcharge, imposed on businesses operating in the Metropolitan Transportation Commuter District (MCTD).

The “cost of a tax expenditure,”³ or the tax expenditure revenue estimate, is the amount by which a tax expenditure reduces taxpayers’ liability to the State for a taxable year or on a calendar year basis if a taxable year basis is not appropriate. The reduction in taxpayer liability is the difference between tax liability under the current Tax Law and tax liability if the particular expenditure did not exist. In the case of certain tax credits, the cost also includes amounts refunded to taxpayers. It is important to acknowledge that each tax expenditure estimate is measured separately and independently of other tax provisions (i.e., other taxes are held constant) and no changes in taxpayer behavior are assumed. Thus, the tax expenditure estimates provided in this report are not equivalent to the impact on the State’s Financial Plan if the expenditure were repealed or modified. In addition, since the expenditure estimates are measured separately and independently, individual tax expenditures cannot be summed.

*Tax year is year with liability period beginning in the respective calendar year.

Federal Exclusions

The personal income (Article 22), corporate franchise (Article 9-A), and insurance (Article 33) taxes are all based, to some extent, on the Federal tax structure. There are provisions in Federal law that reduce the base subject to New York tax because the exclusion flows through to New York law. For example, employer contributions for medical insurance and care are excluded from Federal adjusted gross income. This exclusion flows through to New York which uses Federal adjusted gross income as a starting point for determining New York income. In most cases, New York policymakers have opted to conform to the Federal base for these taxes.⁴ Conformity eases administration of the Tax Law while at the same time promoting taxpayer compliance. These items do not constitute tax expenditures in the same sense as provisions specifically designed by New York policymakers to promote economic development or to provide specific tax relief.

Reliability of the Estimates

Estimates of the cost of tax expenditures have different levels of reliability based on the accuracy of both the data and the estimation procedure.

- For all of the taxes, with the exception of the Sales and Compensating Use Tax, the Department of Taxation and Finance assigns the highest category of reliability, Level 1, to estimates based on information from actual tax returns that were verified for accuracy.
- It assigns Level 2 to estimates based on data files containing unverified or incomplete information from actual tax returns. Neither of these return data sources is augmented with audit information.

USE OF THIS REPORT AND DATA LIMITATIONS

- In Level 3 estimates, average marginal tax rates are applied to aggregate data. This sometimes includes Federal tax return data from the Internal Revenue Service's Statistics of Income.
- Level 4 estimates are based on national tax expenditure estimates made by the Federal Joint Committee on Taxation (JCT) or the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) or are estimates derived from non-tax data sources. Estimates for most of the Sales Tax expenditures are derived from non-tax data sources. Therefore, a somewhat different reliability scheme is employed with all estimates given the fourth level of reliability. Within this fourth level, the report further categorizes estimates based on the accuracy and suitability of the data sources. Category A estimates use both New York State and industry-specific data. Category B estimates use either New York-specific data that is not industry specific or national data derived from direct industry information such as industry associations. Category C estimates use data other than state or industry-specific data.
- The last level of estimates, Level 5, includes those items for which no reliable data source currently exists.

In some cases, the reliability of estimates can change from year to year. This is especially the case for base year and forecast estimates versus historical estimates. For example, provisions previously estimated with either less reliable tax return data or Federal tax information might become Level 1 (highest reliability) if added directly to tax returns and verified for accuracy. This could cause current and projected estimates to differ from historical estimates.

Regardless of data source, the reliability of estimates for the budget year is of distinctly lower quality than that of the historical numbers. The hazards of forecasting generally are exacerbated when point estimates of the value of particular provisions of law are involved. Changes in taxpayer behavior, business organization, and other factors can all have profound implications for the estimates of particular provisions in the budget year.

RECENT LEGISLATION THAT HAS AFFECTED TAX EXPENDITURES

State legislation enacted in recent years has resulted in the addition, deletion, or modification of various provisions in the report this year. The changes are as follows:

Additions:

- Effective September 1, 2021, breast pump replacement parts and breast pump collection and storage supplies are exempt from sales tax when purchased by an individual for home use.
- For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2021, eligible individual taxpayers may claim the new real property tax relief credit. Resident homeowners with income less than $250,000 and whose property taxes exceed six percent of qualified gross income may claim a refundable credit of up to $350. The amount of the credit varies based on income and is only available for homeowners who own and reside for at least half of the year in real property that received the STAR exemption or that qualified the individual for the STAR credit. The credit is scheduled to expire January 1, 2024.
- A new six percent Excelsior childcare services tax credit component was created under the Excelsior Jobs Program. The credit component is for net new childcare services expenditures for the operation, sponsorship, or direct financial support of a childcare services program. Existing participants in the Excelsior Jobs Program are allowed to receive the credit.
- For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021 and before January 1, 2022, a new refundable restaurant return-to-work tax credit is available to independently owned restaurants within New York City or located in an area outside of New York City which has been and/or remains designated by the Department of Health as either an orange or red zone that can demonstrate economic harm from the COVID-19 pandemic. The credit is available to restaurants subject to tax under Articles 9-A and 22 and is administered by Empire State Development (ESD). The credit is capped at $35 million and is equal to $5,000 per full-time equivalent net employee increase, capped at $50,000 per entity.

RECENT LEGISLATION

- For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021 and before January 1, 2024 a new New York City musical and theatrical production tax credit is available. Participants may claim a refundable tax credit equal to 25 percent of qualified production expenditures paid for during the qualified New York City (NYC) musical and theatrical production's credit period. The total amount of credit is capped at $3 million per qualified NYC musical and theatrical production for productions whose first performance is during the first year in which applications are accepted and $1.5 million per qualified NYC musical and theatrical production for productions whose first performance is during the second year in which applications are accepted. The credit, administered by Empire State Development, is allowed by production companies taxable under Articles 9-A and 22 of the Tax Law, who are qualified New York City musical and theatrical production companies. The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed is $100 million and is allocated based on the date of the first performance of the qualified musical and theatrical production.
- For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021 a new Utility COVID-19 Debt Relief Credit is available to taxpayers under Article 9, section 186-a. The refundable credit is equal to the amount of debt waived from customers who received certain utility arrears assistance. The credit is administered by the Public Service Commission (PSC) and is claimed in the taxable year in which the PSC certifies the amount of customer debt waived by the taxpayer that qualifies for the credit.
- For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021, grants received pursuant to New York's COVID-19 Pandemic Small Business Recovery Grant Program are excluded from taxable income under Articles 9-A and 22.

Modifications:

- For tax years 2021 through 2027, the top 8.82 marginal tax rate is replaced with three new rates and brackets as follows:
 - 9.65 percent on income between $1,077,550 and $5 million ($2,155,350 and $5 million for joint filers),
 - 10.30 percent on income between $5 million and $25 million (all filers) and,
 - 10.90 percent on income over $25 million (all filers)
- The sales tax exemption for vending machine sales of candy, juice and soft drinks sold for $1.50 or less was extended through May 31, 2022.
- The sales tax exemption for certain related-party transactions arising as a result of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act was extended to June 30, 2024.

RECENT LEGISLATION

- Enhancements have been made to the Excelsior jobs program to add a five percent excelsior investment tax credit for expenditures for construction of childcare service facilities.
- The amount of the existing employer-provided childcare credit was doubled to 200 percent of the credit allowed under §45F of the Internal Revenue Code and the per entity cap was increased from $150,000 to $500,000 per taxable year for tax years starting on or after January 1, 2022.
- The expiration date of the hire a veteran credit was extended from January 1, 2022 to January 1, 2023.
- The additional 10 percent credit increase on labor costs under the Empire State post-production credit was expanded to include the counties of Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Orange, Putnam, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Sullivan, Warren, Washington and Ulster.
- The expiration dates of the film production credit and the post-production credit were extended one year from January 1, 2026 to January 1, 2027.
- For purposes of the Empire State film production tax credit, the exception for television pilots was removed from the requirement of a qualified film to have a minimum budget of $1 million if the majority of principal photography shooting days for the qualified film are shot in the counties of Westchester, Rockland, Nassau, or Suffolk or the five New York City boroughs, or have a minimum budget of $250,000 if the majority of principal photography shooting days are shot in other counties of New York State.
- The expiration date of the farm workforce retention credit was extended three years from January 1, 2022 to January 1, 2025 with the per employee credit equaling $600 in each year.
- The statewide limitation for the allocation of the aggregate dollar amount of the low-income housing credit was increased by $8 million for each of the next five years.

- For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2022, the rehabilitation of historic properties tax credit was expanded for small projects, defined as one where qualified rehabilitation expenditures are no greater than

- $2.5 million. Small projects receive a credit amount equal to 150 percent of the credit for qualified rehabilitation expenses.
- The period for which the tangible property component of the brownfield redevelopment tax credit is allowed was extended by two years for projects whose original ten year allowable period either expired, or is set to expire, between March 20, 2020 and December 31, 2021.
 - The capital base tax that was set to expire for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021 has been temporarily reinstated until taxable years beginning January 1, 2024 at the general rate of 0.1875 percent. Provided, the following entities are exempt from the capital base – qualified New York manufacturers, qualified emerging technology companies, small business taxpayers and cooperative housing corporations.

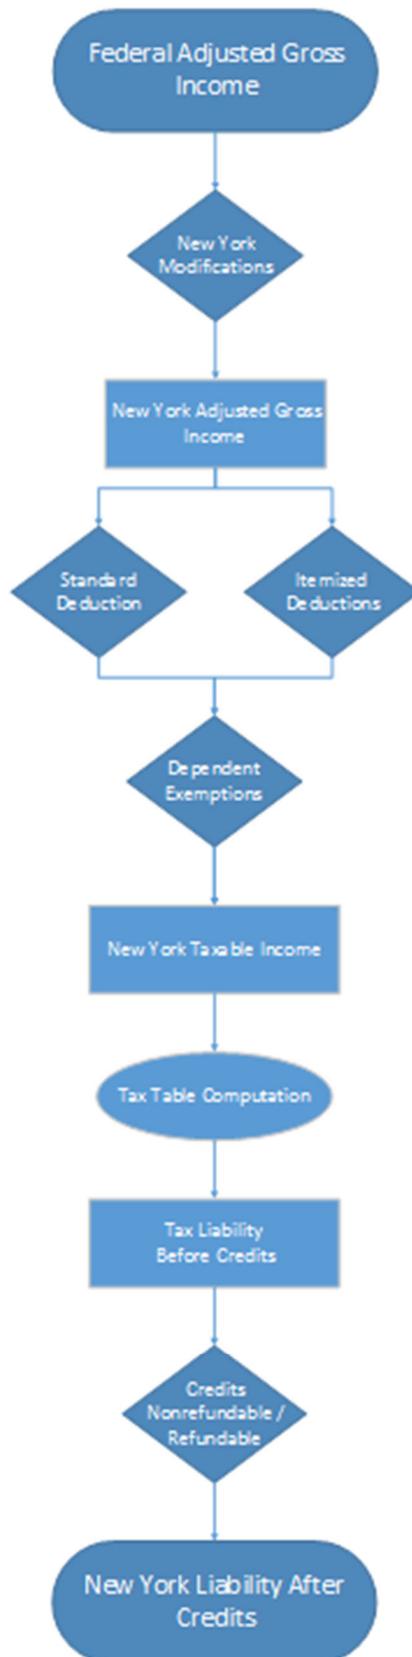

PERSONAL INCOME TAX

This section provides revenue estimates of tax expenditures for the 2022 New York State Personal Income Tax. Tax expenditures are first estimated for the 2019 tax year (the latest year for which historical tax data are available) and then projected to the 2022 tax year. This section also provides historical estimates from 2015 through 2019 for comparison. Table 2 lists the income tax provisions for which estimates exist, and the estimates themselves. To provide some perspective, it also shows total Personal Income Tax liability for the 2019 tax year. The data used to generate the estimates do not include late filed returns, audited returns, or fiduciary returns because no contemporaneous data exist to make the estimates.

Description of Tax

The computation of the New York State Personal Income Tax starts with the Federal definition of adjusted gross income as included in the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). The IRC permits certain exclusions and adjustments in arriving at Federal adjusted gross income. New York allows several subtraction modifications and requires certain addition modifications in arriving at New York adjusted gross income (NYAGI). Taxpayers can then reduce their NYAGI by subtracting the higher of the New York standard deduction or New York itemized deductions. New York itemized deductions generally conform to Federal itemized deductions as they existed prior to enactment of Public Law 115-97; however, certain modifications, such as an add-back for income taxes, apply. In addition, an overall New York State deduction limitation applies to upper-income taxpayers. New York taxpayers may also subtract from NYAGI a $1,000 exemption for each dependent, not including the taxpayer and spouse. After computing taxable income, taxpayers apply a marginal tax rate schedule to compute their tax before credit amount. Eligible refundable and/or nonrefundable credits are then subtracted to determine final New York liability. The chart below shows the computation from FAGI to final New York liability.

PERSONAL INCOME TAX

Major features of the New York State income tax rates since 2012 are as follows:

- In 2012, the top rate was 8.82 percent on taxable incomes over $1,000,000 for single individuals, $1,500,000 for head of household, and $2,000,000 for married couples filing jointly.
- For tax years 2013 through 2017, the tax brackets were indexed by a cost of living percentage adjustment. Tax bracket values are no longer indexed after 2017.
- For tax years 2018 through 2025, a rate reduction will be phased in for middle-class taxpayers. Fully phased in, taxpayers with taxable incomes between $13,900 and $80,650 ($27,900 and $161,550 for joint filers) will see their rates reduced to 5.50 percent and those with taxable incomes between $80,650 and $215,400 ($161,500 and $323,200 for joint filers) will see their rates reduced to 6.00 percent.
- For tax years 2021 through 2027, the top 8.82 marginal tax rate is replaced with three new rates and brackets as follows:
 - 9.65 percent on income between $1,077,550 and $5 million ($2,155,350 and $5 million for joint filers),
 - 10.30 percent on income between $5 million and $25 million (all filers) and,
 - 10.90 percent on income over $25 million (all filers)
- For tax years 2028 and after, the top rate reverts to 8.82 percent on income over $1,077,550 ($2,155,350 for joint filers).
- If New York adjusted gross income exceeds $107,650, then taxpayers must also compute a supplemental tax that recaptures the tax benefit that results from income being taxed at less than the top marginal rate.
- Taxpayers may then subtract certain credits in arriving at their actual tax liability.

Many of the effective dates for the income tax items occurred in 1960. The State Personal Income Tax was originally enacted in 1919, but the present system of Federal conformity with respect to income and deductions did not begin until 1960. Therefore, the report uses 1960 as the effective date for the provisions existing since the reorganization of the State's income tax. Many provisions have also been amended since their enactment; however, this report does not provide a detailed legislative history of each item covering the entire intervening time frame.

The descriptive paragraph on each income tax expenditure summarizes the provision as it appears in the Tax Law in effect as of January 1, 2022. It also includes any differences applicable between the 2019 and 2022 tax years. The listing does not include provisions repealed or sunsetted prior to 2022. Also, only tax credits specific to the Personal Income Tax are described here. Descriptions of tax credits available under multiple tax articles are contained in the Cross-Article Tax Credits section of the report.

Data Sources

The major sources of data used in this section include:

- 2019 Personal Income Tax Population Study File — A data file based on 10.9 million Personal Income Tax returns filed with the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance. The file includes micro data pertaining to full-year resident, part-year resident, and nonresident tax returns filed in 2020 for tax year 2019. The file represents the latest settled information as processed by the Department's tax return system and is verified to ensure accuracy and reliability. This data is used in conjunction with a Personal Income Tax simulation model, a set of complex computer programs which simulate the various features of the Tax Law and variations thereof for the years being estimated.
- 2019 Federal Statistics of Income (SOI) — An annual statistical report produced by the U.S. Treasury Department. It contains Internal Revenue Service data collected from the Federal tax returns filed by New York residents. Verification of the data for accuracy ensures high data quality. The SOI sample of New York taxpayers contains 29,000 unweighted returns.

Methodology

For estimating tax expenditures in 2022, components of income, modifications, and itemized deductions on the 2019 population return file are extrapolated to 2022 levels using growth assumptions based on the economic forecast provided by the New York State Division of the Budget during December 2021. This data file is then used with the Personal Income Tax model revised to simulate 2022 tax law.

Tax expenditures with values of less than $0.1 million are indicated with an asterisk.

Impact of the 2017 Federal Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) on New York Personal Income Tax Expenditures

Based on the federal changes to the treatment of alimony, moving expenses and reimbursements for moving expenses, New York has amended Tax Law regarding the calculation of NYAGI for tax year 2019 and after. Regarding moving expenses, the TCJA suspended the deduction for tax years 2019-2026 for all moving expenses except for members of the Armed Forces (or their spouse or dependents) on active duty that move pursuant to military order. In response, New York amended Tax Law to continue to allow the deduction as it existed prior to 2019 by providing for a NY subtraction from federal AGI (FAGI) in arriving at NYAGI. The TCJA also required that qualified moving expense reimbursements be included in gross income and wages for tax years 2018-2026 except for members of the Armed Forces on active duty that move pursuant to military order. New York amended Tax Law to continue pre-2019 treatment by allowing this amount to be excluded from NYAGI.

The TCJA also changed the federal treatment of alimony and separate maintenance payments made pursuant to alimony or separate maintenance agreements executed after December 31, 2019 or executed before 2020 but modified after December 31, 2019. Under these changes, payments made are no longer deductible by the payor and payments received are no longer included in the recipient's income for federal tax purposes. Subsequent changes to New York Tax Law maintained the previous treatment by decoupling from the federal rules and requiring a subtraction modification for payments made by the payor and the addition of payments received to NYAGI by the recipient.

The decoupling from the federal changes have resulted in the creation of a new tax expenditure at the State level for the subtraction of moving expenses/moving expense reimbursements.

Federal Exclusions from Income

In addition to the tax expenditures which are authorized in New York Tax Law, there are numerous Federal "flow through" tax expenditure provisions which impact the New York State Personal Income Tax. This tax begins with a definition of income which is largely derived from provisions of the Federal Internal Revenue Code. As a result of this "coupling" of State definitions of income base to Federal definitions, exclusions or deductions from income at the Federal level become exclusions or deductions at the State level. Therefore, these provisions automatically become tax expenditures at the State level.

22. Value of Standard Deductions for Those Returns with Itemized Deductions in Excess of Standard Deduction

Citation: Section 614

Effective Date: Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1960

Description: Because all taxpayers are entitled to a standard deduction as a minimum, itemizers have their standard deduction "built into" their total deduction.

Data Source: PIT Simulation Model

23. Itemized Deductions

Taxpayers may itemize deductions on their State returns irrespective of actions taken on their Federal returns.

New York itemized deductions are freestanding and represent Federal law as it existed for Tax Year 2017. Thus, the citations below reference the Internal Revenue Code prior to the enactment of P.L. 115-97. They are authorized in New York Tax Law, Article 22, Section 615. New York limits the availability of itemized deductions for certain high-income taxpayers. The percentage of disallowed deductions varies according to the taxpayer's NYAGI and filing status. Itemized deductions for a single taxpayer with NYAGI in excess of $100,000 are reduced by up to 25 percent. This reduction also applies to married taxpayers filing jointly with NYAGI in excess of $200,000 and heads of household with NYAGI exceeding $250,000. For all taxpayers with NYAGI above $475,000, itemized deductions are reduced by up to an additional 25 percent, equaling 50 percent for all taxpayers with NYAGI above $525,000. Beginning in tax year 2009 and after, the New York itemized deduction limitation has been revised to further limit a taxpayer's New York itemized deduction. If a taxpayer's NYAGI is more than $1,000,000, but not more than $10 million, the New York itemized deduction is limited to 50 percent of the federal itemized deduction for charitable contributions. For tax years beginning after 2012, if an individual's NYAGI is more than $10 million, the itemized deduction is limited to 25 percent of the federal itemized deduction for charitable contributions. All other federal itemized deductions are reduced to zero.

The Federal itemized deduction limitation that was in effect prior to enactment of P.L. 115-97 further reduces the value of the deductions.

New York Credits

Credits are amounts which may be subtracted from the individual's computed State tax liability. Improvements in data sources and methodology allow the reporting of credit claims by New York adjusted gross income class for many of the largest income tax credits for tax year 2015. Furthermore, the nonrefundable credit amounts reported for 2015 are credit "used" to reduce liability for the tax year. For tax years beginning in 2010 and ending after tax year 2012, taxpayers were required to defer the use and refund of certain tax credits if they exceed $2 million in aggregate. See Table 2 for a list of affected tax credits. The credits described below are specific to the Personal Income Tax. Descriptions of other tax credits that are available under the Personal Income Tax as well as other tax articles are contained in the Cross-Article Tax Credits section of the report.

25. Household Credit

CORPORATION FRANCHISE TAX

The 2014-15 Enacted Budget contained the most significant reform of the State's corporate tax system since the 1940s. The new structure modernized and streamlined the tax code, made numerous simplifications, created clarity and certainty, and addressed the most common areas of dispute between taxpayers and the Tax Department. The reform plan also cut tax rates and eliminated two tax bases.

The biggest change was the merger of the Article 32 Bank Tax into the Article 9-A Corporate Franchise Tax. Prior to reform, New York taxed banks and other financial corporations under separate tax articles respectively. Merging the Bank Tax with the Corporate Franchise Tax reflects the modern landscape of New York's leading industry. Corporate reform also recognized the shift to a service and knowledge-based economy by adopting a comprehensive market state tax approach. Certain other corporations (public utilities and insurance companies) continue to pay tax under other articles of the Tax Law.

This section of the report lists 88 separate tax expenditures for the Corporation Franchise Tax on general business corporations and banks. This year's report contains the third year of data for the new structure – tax year 2017. There are no estimates for tax years prior to 2015 because either the provisions did not previously exist or the changes under reform were of such significance that a historical estimate would be inappropriate. Pre-reform descriptions of Articles 9-A and 32 and historical estimates of the tax expenditures for pre-reform tax years (prior to 2015) are reported in Appendices A and B in the FY 2020 Tax Expenditure Report. The list of tax expenditures is based on the Tax Law as of January 1, 2022. Table 3 summarizes the tax expenditure estimates and includes total Article 9-A corporate franchise tax liability for the 2018 tax year to provide a benchmark for the tax expenditure estimates.

Description of Tax

The Corporate Franchise Tax has three separate bases. The business income base is the primary tax base, while the business capital and fixed dollar minimum tax bases are alternatives. Corporations pay the highest tax computed on these bases less applicable credits, but generally not less than the fixed dollar amount.

The computation of the tax on business income begins with Federal taxable income (FTI) for U.S. corporations (including domestic banks) or effectively connected income (ECI), with treaty benefits added back, for alien (non-U.S.) corporations. Taxpayers then make several state specific modifications to arrive at entire net income (ENI). Many of these modifications are the tax expenditures included in this section. Investment income and other exempt income are then subtracted from ENI, resulting in business income (BI). Taxpayers use a single receipts factor with market-based sourcing rules to apportion BI to New York State.

The following table provides the tax rate schedule as it applies to the BI base:

Type of Business	Tax Year 2015	Tax Year 2016	Tax Year 2017	Tax Years 2018 – 2020	Tax Years 2021 – 2024	Tax Year 2025 and Thereafter
Qualified New York Manufacturers	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%
Qualified Emerging Technology Companies (QETCs)	5.7%	5.5%	5.5%	4.875%	4.875%	4.875%
Small Businesses ¹	6.5%	6.5%	6.5%	6.5%	6.5%	6.5%
Taxpayers with Business Income Base of More Than $5 Million	7.1%	6.5%	6.5%	6.5%	7.1%	6.5%
Remaining Taxpayers	7.1%	6.5%	6.5%	6.5%	6.5%	6.5%

The tax on business capital starts with the taxpayer's total assets reduced by its liabilities to arrive at total capital before apportionment. Taxpayers then subtract out investment capital as only business capital is subject to tax. Taxpayers multiply business capital by the business apportionment factor to determine the apportioned business capital base. The tax is capped at $5 million for taxpayers subject to the base. Qualified New York manufacturers, QETCs, cooperative housing corporations, and small business taxpayers are exempt from the capital base tax.

The capital base that was set to expire in tax year 2021 has been temporarily reinstated until tax year 2024. The following rate schedule applies to the capital base:

Type of Business	Tax Year 2015	Tax Year 2016	Tax Year 2017	Tax Year 2018	Tax Year 2019	Tax Year 2020	Tax Years 2021 - 2024	Tax Year 2025 and Thereafter

Data Sources and Methodology

In 2014, New York enacted comprehensive corporate tax reform, which took effect for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2015. Given the significant changes to the tax structure, all of the individual expenditures listed in this section are considered effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2015, even if they existed in years before reform.

Historical estimates for credits are provided in the Cross-Article Tax Credits section, where Article 9-A and Article 32 amounts are reported separately. Credit amounts for 2018 and forecast values in this section represent estimates for all taxpayers filing under the newly constituted Article 9-A.

Certain Federal tax expenditure provisions “flow through” and impact the New York Corporate Franchise Tax. The tax begins with definitions of income that are derived from provisions of the Federal Internal Revenue Code. As a result of this “coupling” of State definitions of the income base to Federal definitions, exclusions or deductions from income at the Federal level become exclusions or deductions at the State level. Therefore, these provisions automatically become tax expenditures at the State level. The U.S. Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation (JCT) publishes an annual report (Estimates of Federal Tax Expenditures) that estimates Federal tax expenditure items. Many items generally flow through to New York, but since state-level data for Federal exclusion or deduction items are not available, state-specific estimates are not possible. Furthermore, it should be noted that New York does not conform to all Federal tax expenditure provisions. States can decide to not follow (or ‘decouple’ from) Federal provisions. For example, in 2003 New York decoupled from Federal bonus depreciation provisions under IRC Sec. 168(k) ⁴

2. are held by the taxpayer for investment for more than one year;

4. for stocks acquired on or after January 1, 2015, at any time after the close of the day in which they are acquired, have never been held for sale to customers in the regular course of business; and of a dealer in securities to be eligible for capital gain treatment (whether or not the taxpayer is in fact a dealer of securities).

In addition, investment capital includes debt and other securities the income of which cannot be apportioned under the U.S. Constitution.

Investment capital does not include stock in a corporation that is conducting a unitary business with the taxpayer, stock in a corporation that is included combined group pursuant to the commonly owned group election, and stock issued by the taxpayer.

Investment income must be reduced by interest expenses directly and indirectly attributable to those items of income. Finally, the amount of investment income, determined without regard to interest deductions, cannot exceed eight percent of the taxpayer's ENI.

Description: A taxpayer may deduct other exempt income from entire net income (ENI). Other exempt income means the sum of exempt controlled foreign corporation (CFC) income and exempt unitary corporation dividends.

Exempt CFC income defined in Tax Law section 208(6-a)(a) includes:

- i. Subpart F income (other than that described in (ii) below) required to be included in the taxpayer's Federal gross income pursuant to IRC section 951(a) received from a corporation conducting a unitary business with the taxpayer but not included in the taxpayer's combined group;
- ii. mandatory deemed repatriation income required to be included in the taxpayer's Federal gross income pursuant to IRC section 951(a) by reason of IRC section 965(a) received from a corporation that is not included in the taxpayer's combined group; and
- iii. ninety-five percent of global intangible low-taxed income required to be included in the taxpayer's Federal gross income pursuant to IRC section 951A received from a corporation that is not included in the taxpayer's combined group.

The mandatory deemed repatriation related deduction allowed under IRC section 965(c) and the GILTI-related deduction allowed under IRC section 250 must be added back to ENI in years when the income is included in other exempt income.

CORPORATION FRANCHISE TAX

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2018 and before January 1, 2019, GILTI income as well as the corresponding IRC section 250 deduction for a portion of GILTI income, flowed through from the federal return to New York. As a result, the net GILTI amount was generally included in taxable business income.

Exempt unitary corporation dividends defined in Tax Law section 208(6-a)(b) includes:

- i. dividends received from a corporation conducting a unitary business with the taxpayer but taxable, or would be taxable, under a franchise tax imposed by Article 9 or Article 33 of the Tax Law (cross-article dividends); and
- ii. dividends (other than those described in (i) above) received from a corporation conducting a unitary business with the taxpayer but not included in the taxpayer's combined group (i.e. alien corporations with no effectively connected income and corporations less than 50 percent directly or indirectly owned by the taxpayer).

The income listed above must be reduced by interest expenses directly or indirectly attributable to the production of such income. In lieu of performing expense attribution, taxpayers may instead elect to reduce the income (other than cross-article dividends) by 40 percent.

Other exempt income cannot exceed ENI.

a. Special Tax Benefits for New York Manufacturers

Manufacturers in New York are subject to reduced tax rates and fixed dollar minimum amounts, as well as a lower capital base liability cap.

b. Special Tax Benefits for Qualified Emerging Technology Companies (QETCs)

QETCs in New York are subject to reduced tax rates and fixed dollar minimum amounts, as well as a lower capital base liability cap.

A corporation is a qualified emerging technology company if it meets the definition in Public Authorities Law Section 3102-e(1)(c), except that the $10 million limitation under 3102-e(1)(c)(1) does not apply. A combined group may be considered a QETC if all members of the group meet the definition of a QETC.

A QETC must meet one of two tests:

- it must be engaged in creating or developing emerging technologies referenced in section 3102-e of the Public Authorities Law to qualify under the primary products or services test; or
- it must have research and development activities in New York State and have a ratio of research and development funds to net sales equal to or in excess of the average ratio for all surveyed companies classified as determined by the National Science Foundation in the most recent published results from its Survey of Industry Research and Development, or any comparable successor survey (the research and development test).

The credit equals 2.93 percent of the total principal and interest collected for each SONYMA mortgage secured by a one-to-four family residence. In addition, banks and mortgage bankers may receive an amount equal to the interest collected during the taxable year on each SONYMA mortgage secured by a five or more family residence multiplied by a fraction. The fraction depends on the types of properties which secure the serviced mortgage loans. The credit may reduce tax liability to zero.

Cross-Article Credits

Credits include amounts that the taxpayer may subtract in calculating New York tax liability or request as a refund or apply as a payment for the next tax period. Full descriptions of all the tax credits available under Article 9-A as well as other tax articles are contained in the Cross-Article Tax Credits section of this report.

INSURANCE TAX

This section of the report provides tax expenditure estimates for 56 separate provisions of the corporate franchise tax on insurance companies. The list of tax expenditures contained in Table 4 is based on the Tax Law as of January 1, 2022. The estimates are based on data from the 2018 tax year, the latest year for which Article 33 tax return data are available. They are also extrapolated to the 2022 tax year. The tax years refer to both the 2018 and 2022 calendar years and fiscal tax years beginning in 2018 and 2022. Total insurance tax liability for the 2018 tax year has been included to provide some perspective to the tax expenditure estimates.

Description of Tax

Article 33 imposes a franchise tax on insurance companies. The structure of the tax depends on the type of insurer as well as if the insurance corporation is authorized to do an insurance business in New York.

Life Insurance Corporations

Life insurance corporations compute tax on the highest of four bases and then add to the result both a subsidiary capital tax and a premiums tax.

The four alternative bases are:

- 7.1 percent of allocated entire net income; or
- 0.16 percent on allocated business and investment capital; or
- 9 percent of 30 percent of allocated entire net income plus officers' salaries less specified deductions; or
- a fixed dollar minimum tax of $250.

Life insurance corporations doing business within and without the State allocate entire net income (ENI), business and investment capital, and ENI plus officers' salaries to New York based on weighted ratios of premiums and wages earned or paid in New York to those earned or paid everywhere.

Added to the highest of the four bases are:

- 0.08 percent tax on subsidiary capital allocated to New York; and
- 0.7 percent tax on gross premiums, less return premiums thereon, written on risks located or resident in New York.

INSURANCE TAX

The total tax liability, less Empire Zone (EZ) credits, cannot be less than 1.5 percent of taxable premiums (the tax floor) or greater than 2 percent of taxable premiums (the cap on tax). Taxpayers may then claim other credits against the total tax liability.

Non-Life Insurance Corporations

Non-life insurance corporations are subject to the larger of a tax on premiums or a flat $250 fixed dollar minimum. Accident and health insurance premiums are taxed at 2.0 percent and other non-life insurance premiums are taxed at 1.75 percent.

Captive Insurance Corporations

Captive insurance corporations are subject to tax on gross direct premiums and assumed reinsurance premiums but cannot be less than a $5,000 minimum tax. Captives cannot use credits to reduce tax and are generally not included in a combined report.

Unauthorized Insurance Corporations

An unauthorized non-life insurance corporation, as well as an unauthorized life insurance corporation, doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property in New York State in a corporate or organized capacity, or maintaining an office in New York State is subject to a franchise tax computed under the four bases plus the subsidiary capital base. However, an unauthorized insurance corporation is not subject to the additional premiums tax or the limitations based on premiums.

Data Sources

The major sources of data used to compute the tax expenditure estimates under Article 33 Insurance Tax include:

- 2018 Article 33 Insurance Tax Study File — This file, compiled by the Department of Taxation and Finance, includes the tax returns of all insurance companies filing under Article 33.
- New York State Department of Financial Services aggregate data.

Methodology

The projections of the tax expenditures from 2018 to 2022 use a variety of economic forecast variables.

Tax expenditures whose values are less than $0.1 million are considered minimal and are designated by an asterisk.

Certain Federal tax expenditure provisions “flow through” and impact the New York Insurance Tax. The tax begins with definitions of income that are derived from provisions of the Federal Internal Revenue Code. As a result of this “coupling” of State definitions of the income base to Federal definitions, exclusions or deductions from income at the Federal level become exclusions or deductions at the State level. Therefore, these provisions automatically become tax expenditures at the State level. The U.S. Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation (JCT) publishes an annual report (Estimates of Federal Tax Expenditures) that estimates Federal tax expenditure items. Many items generally flow through to New York, but since state-level data for Federal exclusion or deduction items are not available, state-specific estimates are not possible. Furthermore, it should be noted that New York does not conform to all Federal tax expenditure provisions. States can decide to not follow (or 'decouple' from) Federal provisions. For example, in 2003 New York decoupled from Federal bonus depreciation provisions under IRC Sec. 168(k).

Preferential Tax Rates

21. Preferential Tax Treatment for Captive Insurance Companies

Citation: Section 1502-b

Effective Date: Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1998

Description: Captive insurers are subject to a special premiums tax at lower rates than the rate that applies to other insurers. The tax imposed on captives equals the greater of the sum of the tax imposed on gross direct premiums and the tax imposed on assumed reinsurance premiums, or $5,000. The tax rates that apply to gross direct premiums and assumed reinsurance premiums decrease as the amount of premiums subject to tax increases, with the highest rate equaling 0.4 percent.

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2009 and before January 1, 2015, an overcapitalized captive insurance company must be included in a combined return under either Article 9-A or 32 with the closest corporation that directly or indirectly owns or controls over 50 percent of the voting stock of the overcapitalized captive insurance company. For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2015, a combinable captive insurance company must be included in a combined return under Article 9-A if it is more than 50 percent owned by an Article 9-A corporation.

Credits

Credits are amounts, enumerated by Article 33 of the New York State Tax Law, which insurance corporations may subtract from their calculated New York tax liability. Article 33 credits are available to both life and non-life insurance corporations unless otherwise noted.

The maximum credit allowed to all life insurance companies for a particular year is limited to the greater of $40 million or 40 percent of the total tax liability of all such companies. To calculate its respective credit amount, an individual corporation multiplies the $40 million/40 percent maximum by the assessments it paid divided by the sum all assessments paid by all corporations.

The credit can be claimed over 10 years, at a rate of 10 percent per year. The combined statewide cap is $400 million on the total amount of investments for which credits may be claimed. The total for all five programs may not exceed $40 million in any year.

Cross-Article Credits

Descriptions of other tax credits that are available under the Insurance Tax as well as other tax articles are contained in the Cross-Article Tax Credits section of the report.

CORPORATION TAX

This section of the report provides descriptions of 39 separate tax expenditure provisions of the Article 9 tax. It contains estimates of the tax expenditures for tax years 2014 through 2018 (2018 is the latest year for which Article 9 tax return data is available). The list of tax expenditures is based on the Tax Law as of January 1, 2022. The estimates are also extrapolated to the 2022 tax year. The tax year refers to both the 2022 calendar year and fiscal years beginning in 2022. Table 6 summarizes the tax expenditure estimates. It also includes total tax liability of Article 9 to provide perspective.

Description of Tax

Article 9 of the Tax Law imposes capital stock-based franchise and gross receipts-based taxes on a variety of specialized businesses.

Section 183 imposes a franchise tax on transportation and transmission companies and associations (excluding aviation companies which are taxable under Article 9-A) on the basis of allocated capital stock. Generally, a corporation's stock is allocated to New York in the ratio that the corporation's gross assets employed in the State bear to gross assets everywhere. U.S. obligations and cash in hand are excluded from the calculation. The tax equals the highest of the three amounts computed by the following methods: (1) allocated value of issued capital stock multiplied by 1.5 mills; (2) allocated value of issued capital stock on which dividends are paid 6 percent or more, multiplied by 0.375 mills for each one percent of dividends paid; or (3) a fixed minimum tax of $75. Effective January 1998, trucking and railroad companies previously taxable under Section 183 became taxable under Article 9-A, unless an election had been made to remain taxable under Article 9. Effective January 1, 2000, gas pipelines became taxable under Article 9-A.

Section 184 imposes an additional franchise tax on transportation and transmission corporations and associations based on their gross earnings within the state. The tax is 3/8 percent of gross earnings received from business conducted in New York. Beginning in 1995, Section 184 no longer applies to inter-exchange carriers, but applies only to those telecommunications corporations or associations principally engaged in a local telephone business. Companies principally engaged in long distance services are excluded from the tax. In addition, the law provided two exclusions to equalize the tax treatment of telecommunications services provided by local carriers, which remain subject to the Section 184 tax, and inter-exchange carriers. One hundred percent of receipts from sales for ultimate consumption from interLATA, interstate, or international services and 30 percent of intraLATA toll services, including interregion regional calling plan services are excluded in the computation of tax under Section 184. In January 1998, trucking and railroad companies formerly taxable under Section 184 became taxable under Article 9-A, unless they elected to remain taxable under Article 9. In January 2000, gas pipelines became taxable under Article 9-A.

CORPORATION TAX

Section 185 imposes a franchise tax on farmers, fruit growers, and other like agricultural corporations organized and operated on a cooperative basis. The tax is the highest amount computed under the following calculations: (1) allocated value of issued capital stock multiplied by one mill; (2) allocated value of issued capital stock on which dividends paid are six percent or more, multiplied by $\frac{1}{4}$ mill for each one percent of dividends paid; or (3) a fixed dollar minimum tax of \$10. Section 185 is repealed for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2018.

Section 186, which was repealed effective January 1, 2000, provided for a franchise tax on waterworks companies, gas companies, electric or steam heating, lighting, and power companies. The tax was imposed at a rate of .75 percent on New York gross earnings and 4.5 percent on the amount of dividends paid which exceeded 4 percent of the amount of the taxpayer's paid-in capital employed in New York State. The minimum tax alternative of $125 applied, but only in case and to the extent that the tax computed under the primary method was less than $125. An additional excess dividends tax may have also applied. Energy and water companies formerly taxable under this Section are now taxable under Article 9-A. However, a company may elect to remain a continuing Section 186 taxpayer and be subject to the tax as it existed in 1999, if certain conditions apply.

Section 186-a provides for a gross receipts tax on the furnishing of utility services. A utility is defined as any seller of gas, electricity, steam, water, or refrigeration. Utilities that provide telephone or telegraph services which are subject to the supervision of the Public Service Commission pay the tax on their gross receipts not derived from the sale of telecommunications services at a rate of 2.5 percent. Telecommunications service receipts are taxable under Section 186-e. The tax rate imposed on receipts from transportation, transmission, distribution, or delivery of energy for residential customers is 2.0 percent.

The following table shows the history of the Section 186-a rate structure as it pertains to receipts from the sale of an energy commodity and charges for the transportation, transmission, distribution, or delivery of energy.

Calendar Year	2000	2001	2002	2003	2004	2005 and After
Commodity Rate	2.1%	2.0%	1.9%	0.85%	0.4%	0%
T&D Rate	2.5%	2.45%	2.4%	2.25%	2.125%	2.0%

Section 186-e provides for an excise tax on telecommunications services at rate of 2.5 percent on the gross receipts of providers of non-mobile telecommunications services. The tax applies to gross receipts from all intrastate services and interstate and international services that either originate or terminate in New York and are billed to a service address in the State.

A separate excise tax is imposed on the sale of mobile telecommunication services by a telecommunication services provider at the rate of 2.9 percent. This rate applies to gross receipts from any mobile telecommunication service provided on or after May 1, 2015 by a home service provider where the mobile telecommunications customer's place of primary use is within New York State.

Most of the revenue from the Article 9 tax resulted from the gross receipts-based taxes (Sections 184, 186, 186-a, and 186-e).

Section 186-f imposes public safety communications surcharges on certain wireless communications services. A $1.20 per month surcharge is imposed for each postpaid wireless communications device in service for every customer whose place of primary use is in New York State. A $0.90 surcharge applies to each retail sale of a prepaid wireless communication service. This section took effect on September 1, 2009. The surcharge on prepaid wireless communications service was effective on December 1, 2017.

Data Sources

The major source of data used to compute the tax expenditure estimates under Article 9 is the 2018 Corporation Tax Study File. This file, compiled by the Department of Taxation and Finance, includes all corporations filing under Article 9. It includes selected data items from the tax returns of each corporation. Simulations of the file generate the base case tax expenditures.

Methodology

The projections of the tax expenditures from 2018 to 2022 use a variety of economic forecast variables.

Tax expenditures whose values are less than $0.1 million are considered minimal and are designated by an asterisk.

SALES AND USE TAX

This section of the report provides tax expenditure descriptions and estimates for 161 provisions of the Sales and Use Tax Law. The list of expenditures is based on the Tax Law in effect as of January 1, 2022. The tax expenditure estimates only pertain to the State portion of the tax and do not include estimates of the revenue foregone by local governments levying sales and use taxes.

The report presents historical estimates for calendar years 2015 through 2019. Table 6 lists the tax expenditures and provides historical year and projected 2022 estimates. It also lists the years for which data are available. For recently added tax expenditures, the report displays historical estimates only for years the item existed as a tax expenditure. The effective dates recorded in the report refer to the date the applicable provision took effect.

Description of Tax

The New York State Sales and Use Tax was enacted in 1965 and took effect August 1, 1965. This tax applies primarily to retail sales of tangible personal property in New York State. The Sales and Use Tax also applies to a variety of services, notably, services to real or personal property, telephone service, and commercial energy use. Hotel occupancy, restaurant meals and certain admissions are also taxed. Generally, the tax base includes tangible personal property unless the law provides a specific exclusion or exemption and does not include services unless the law specifically enumerates the service as taxable.

The Tax Law provides manufacturers with exemptions for the purchase, repair, and maintenance of machinery and equipment used in production. Other exempt items include food, medicine, residential energy, and sales to exempt organizations. Although most services are not subject to sales or use tax, this report examines only services which are specifically exempted by New York.

The Department of Taxation and Finance administers the Sales and Use Tax for the State and its constituent jurisdictions that also impose the tax. The State rate equals 4 percent. Local rates range from 3 percent to 4.75 percent. Communities within the Metropolitan Commuter Transportation District are subject to an additional 3/8 of 1 percent tax rate. In State fiscal year 2020-21, the Department collected about $13.3 billion for the State and approximately $16.2 billion for local governments from sales and use taxes.

Data Sources

Most Sales Tax expenditure estimates use aggregate, non-tax data sources. This is because no tax return data exists for the many exclusions and exemptions. Thus, the estimates are only suggestive of the revenue loss associated with each provision. Estimates are rounded to the nearest million dollars.

Data sources used to compute the tax expenditure estimates include:

- Federal government publications and surveys such as the U.S. Census Bureau's Economic Census;
- New York State data resources from Open New York's open data portal; and
- Industry surveys and information, such as the information provided by the Vending Times.

Methodology

The report bases the historical estimates on the most recent data available. If data are not available for a particular year covered by the report, the tax expenditure is estimated from the most recent data. For example, where 2018 represents the latest year for which relevant data are available, the 2018 data are used to derive historical estimates. Historical estimates may vary from prior year reports due to the availability of more recent data. From the most recent data, tax expenditure estimates are projected to 2022 levels.

A sales tax transaction can be exempt from tax because the good or service is exempt or because its use, purchaser, or seller is exempt. In valuing the exemptions, no account is taken of the fact that if the good or service were made taxable, some of the transactions would remain exempt because of the nature of the use, purchaser, or seller. Hence, the value of a particular good or service may be included in two or more tax expenditure estimates. Because of this overlapping, the revenue value of eliminating an exemption would not necessarily coincide with the estimated value herein.

PETROLEUM BUSINESS TAX

This section provides tax expenditure estimates for 34 provisions of the Petroleum Business Tax. Table 7 provides a list of expenditures based on the Tax Law as of January 1, 2022. The estimates are based on data for the 2020 calendar year (the latest complete year for which tax return data is available) and then extrapolated to the 2022 calendar year. Total Petroleum Business Tax liability for calendar 2020 is provided as a benchmark for the tax expenditure estimates.

Description of Tax

Article 13-A of the Tax Law imposes a business privilege tax on petroleum businesses operating in New York State. The tax is measured by the quantity of various petroleum products refined or sold in the State or imported for sale or use in the State. Imposition of the tax occurs at different points in the distribution chain, depending upon the type of petroleum product. Motor fuel (gasoline) is subject to tax upon importation to New York State. Highway diesel motor fuel is taxable upon removal from an in-state registered fuel terminal. Non-highway diesel motor fuel and residual petroleum products become taxable on the final sale or use of the product in New York.

The Article 13-A business privilege tax was added to the Tax Law in 1983 and was imposed on the gross receipts of such businesses. On September 1, 1990, the tax was restructured, converting the annual gross receipts tax to a monthly tax measured by gallons.

Some of the exemptions, credits, and reimbursements provided for in the restructuring applied to the prior gross receipts tax. Although these provisions already had been in place, the effective dates and estimates cited herein reflect the date on which they were restructured.

PETROLEUM BUSINESS TAX

Data Sources

The major sources of data used to compute the tax expenditure estimates under Article 13-A include:

- Petroleum Business Tax (PBT) Master File for 2016-2020. This is an unverified file of all taxpayers filing a return under Article 13-A.
- Refund data from the Department of Taxation and Finance's Audit Division.
- Nontax data sources such as: Data from the U.S. Department of Energy and U.S. Department of Defense and New York State Energy Research and Development Authority.

Methodology

The projections of the tax expenditures from 2020 to 2022 are based, where possible, on forecasted consumption of various petroleum products. These forecasts were produced by the United States Department of Energy - Energy Information Agency. The remaining expenditure estimates used forecasts of appropriate economic variables.

Tax expenditures whose values are less than $0.1 million are considered Minimal and are designated by an asterisk.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFER TAX

This section of the report provides tax expenditure estimates for 18 separate provisions of the Real Estate Transfer Tax. Table 7 provides a list of expenditures based on the Tax Law as of January 1, 2022. The estimates are based on liability data from the 2019-20 fiscal year. Base year 2019-20 liability is also extrapolated to the 2022-23 fiscal year. The estimates are based on an examination of liability incurred between April 1 and March 31. Real Estate Transfer Tax liability for the 2019-20 fiscal year has been included to provide some perspective to the tax expenditure estimates.

Description of Tax

Adopted in 1968, Article 31 of the New York State Tax Law imposes a Real Estate Transfer Tax on the conveyance of real property or an interest in real property where the consideration exceeds $500. Payment is due no later than fifteen days after the delivery of the instrument affecting the conveyance (such as a deed). The rate of tax equals two dollars for every five hundred dollars (or fraction thereof) of consideration. Responsibility for payment rests with the person making the conveyance, the grantor. If the grantor (the seller) has failed to pay the tax or is exempt from liability, the grantee (the buyer) is responsible for payment.

The transfer tax also applies to conveyances of shares of stock in a cooperative housing corporation, the creation of long-term leaseholds and subleases, and transfers or acquisitions of a controlling interest in an entity which owns an interest in real property.

Together with the basic transfer tax, an additional one percent tax (the “mansion” tax) is imposed on the conveyance of residential real property or interest therein where the consideration is one million dollars or more. The additional tax is imposed upon the grantee. However, if the grantee is exempt from tax, then the tax is imposed on the grantor.

Data Sources

The major source of data used to compute the tax expenditure estimates include:

- Real Estate Transfer Tax Return Database — This file, compiled by the Department of Taxation and Finance, includes information on selected transfers of real property. It includes data items from the TP-584 tax return filed with these transfers and is an unverified data file.

CROSS-ARTICLE TAX CREDITS

Many of the tax credits New York State offers are available to taxpayers regardless of the tax article to which they are subject. This section provides descriptions of these credits and notes where there may be article-specific differences. The section also provides an estimate for the credit under each article where it is available. Credits that are only available under one tax article are reported in their respective section.

The historical data reflects the separation between Article 9-A for general business corporations (CFT) and Article 32 for banks (Bank). Starting in 2015, Article 32 no longer exists, which necessitates the "--" indication in the 2015 column for Banks and the Bank forecast column. The 2015, 2016 and 2017 CFT values and the 2021 forecast for CFT includes the estimated impact from taxpayers formerly filing under Article 32 but now filing under Article 9-A as a result of the recently enacted corporate tax reform.

Taxpayers using and refunding over $2 million in certain tax credits in tax years 2010, 2011, and 2012 were required to defer excess amounts. Taxpayers could begin to redeem deferred credits starting in the 2013 tax year. All deferred nonrefundable tax credits are aggregated into the temporary deferral nonrefundable payout credit and may be applied to the extent permitted by the taxpayer's liability. Amounts in excess of any liability limitations will be allowed to be carried forward indefinitely for future use. All deferred refundable credits were aggregated into the temporary deferral refundable payout credit. Taxpayers were allowed to use and refund 50 percent of the total credit in tax year 2013, 75 percent of the remainder in tax year 2014, and the remaining balance in tax year 2015.

Because the temporary credit deferral program was essentially a shift in the timing of credit utilization, credit amounts reported in the Tax Expenditure Report do not account for the impact of deferral. Thus, data for the 2010-2012 tax years reflect the cost of credits as if deferral was not in place. This allows for a consistent basis against which to measure trends in credit utilization without needing to adjust for the timing distortion caused by the deferral program.

Because credit amounts in 2010-2012 are reported without regard to deferral, including the amounts of the deferral payout credits would amount to double counting of the cost of credits. In the years where deferral was in effect, the impact on the financial plan was lower than the reported credit amounts. Likewise, in years where deferral payout credits are claimed, the total cost of credits is higher than what is shown. However, the two amounts will offset each other.

Finally, some credits contained in this section can no longer be earned in the current year. They are retained in this report, however, because taxpayers possess a large, unused reserve of certain credits that can be carried forward and applied against future tax liabilities. These credits can be identified by looking at the effective dates included for each credit.

CROSS-ARTICLE TAX CREDITS

1. Investment Tax Credit and Employment Incentive Credit

a. Investment Tax Credit (ITC)

Citation: Section 210-b(1), Section 606(a), a-1

Pre-Reform Citation: Section 210(12)

Credit Type: Refundable to New Businesses Only

Effective Date of Credit: Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1969; the sections of this credit covering research and development (R&D) property and pollution control facilities represent a consolidation of previously separate tax benefits and are effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1987

Description: The law allows a credit based on the cost or other basis for Federal tax purposes of depreciable tangible personal property, including buildings and their structural components, acquired, constructed, reconstructed, or erected after December 31, 1968 having a useful life of four years or more, located within the State of New York, and used primarily for the production of goods by a variety of processes. The claiming of a depreciation or expense deduction for such property under certain other tax provisions, or the leasing of the property to another individual or corporation, unless explicitly allowed, disqualifies the taxpayer from exercising a claim under this provision. A taxpayer may carry forward any unused credit and apply it against the tax for subsequent years or, in the case of a qualified new business, claim it as a refund.

Taxpayers who provide three or more services, such as a studio lighting grid, lighting and grip equipment, or industrial scale electrical capacity to qualified film productions are eligible to claim the ITC on property used in the qualified film production facility.

The law allows a credit for expenditures paid or incurred during the tax year for the construction, reconstruction, erection, or improvement of pollution control, waste treatment, and acid rain control facilities. To qualify for the credit, facilities must be located within the State, used in regular business activities, and certified by the State Commissioner of Environmental Conservation.

Tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings used for the purpose of research and development in the laboratory or experimental sense is eligible for a higher credit rate. However, credit is not allowed with respect to property that has been leased to another individual or corporation, or that has been the basis of a claim for an elective expense deduction or a regular ITC. Furthermore, the credit is not allowed with respect to tangible personal property and other tangible property principally used by the taxpayer in the production or distribution of electricity, natural gas after extraction from wells, steam, or water delivered through a pipe.

PIT Filers – The credit rate equals 4 percent of the investment credit base. The taxpayer may claim a rate of 7 percent on R&D property but is not allowed to also claim the employment incentive credit. Where the allowable credit exceeds the taxpayer's liability for a given year, the taxpayer may carry forward the excess credit for 10 subsequent tax years. In the case of a new business, excess credit may be received as a refund.

CFT Filers – The credit rate equals 5 percent of the first $350 million of the investment credit base. A 4 percent rate applies to amounts above $350 million. The taxpayer may claim a rate of 9 percent on R&D property but is not allowed to also claim the employment incentive credit. Where the allowable credit exceeds the taxpayer's liability for a given year, the taxpayer may carry forward the excess credit for 15 subsequent tax years. In the case of a new business, excess credit may be received as a refund.

NOTE: When qualified ITC property is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of its useful life, a portion of the credit must be recaptured. Any ITC recapture may be added to the tax otherwise due in the year of disposition or disqualification.

b. Employment Incentive Credit (EIC)

Citation: Section 210-b(2), Section 606(a-1)

Pre-Reform Citation: Section 210(12-D)

Credit Type: CFT - Non-refundable/Carryforward; PIT - Refundable to New Businesses Only

Effective Date of Credit: Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1987 for corporate franchise taxpayers; January 1, 1997 for personal income taxpayers

Description: Taxpayers that increase employment may be eligible for the employment incentive credit, which is allowed for each of the two years succeeding the taxable year in which the ITC is earned. The amount of the credit is as follows:

- 1.5 percent of the ITC base if employment is at least 101 percent but less than 102 percent of the employment base year;
- 2.0 percent of the ITC base if employment is at least 102 percent but less than 103 percent of the employment base year;
- 2.5 percent of the ITC base if employment is at least 103 percent of the employment base year.

NOTE: As part of corporate tax reform, passed in the SFY 2014-15 Enacted Budget, the rehabilitation credit for historic barns and the retail enterprise tax credit were eliminated under Article 9-A (the Corporate Franchise Tax). These credits are still available under the personal income tax, but information on the amount of credits used and refunded in any year is not separately available.

2. Investment Tax Credit for the Financial Services Industry

Citation: Section 210-b(1), Section 606(a)(2)(A), Section 1511(q)

Pre-Reform Citation: Section 210(12), Section 1456(i)

Credit Type: Refundable to New Businesses Only

Property purchased by a taxpayer affiliated with a regulated broker, dealer, registered investment advisor, or national securities exchange or board of trade, or property leased by a taxpayer to an affiliated regulated broker, dealer, registered investment advisor, national securities exchange, or board of trade is eligible for this credit if the property is used by the affiliate in an activity described above.

Taxpayers must also satisfy an annual employment test that measures New York State employment in the current tax year against one of three standards:

- 80% current-year test: 80% or more of the employees performing the administrative and support functions resulting from or relating to the qualifying uses of the property are located in New York State;
- 95% three-year back-office test: The average number of employees located in New York State performing the administrative and support functions resulting from or related to the qualifying uses of such equipment during the tax year is equal to or greater than 95% of the number during the 36 months immediately preceding the year for which the credit is claimed; or

- 90% end-of-year test: The number of New York State employees during the current tax year is equal to or greater than 90 percent of the number on December 31, 1998 or, if the taxpayer was not a calendar year taxpayer in 1998, the last day of its first taxable year ending after December 31, 1998.

S corporations could also elect to take a refund regardless of whether the credit is carried from a New York C year or a New York S year. Under Article 9-A, credit earned on or after January 1, 2015 is refundable for certain residential mortgages.

4. Empire Zone (EZ), Qualified Empire Zone Enterprise (QEZE), and Zone Equivalent Area Tax Credits

The Empire Zones (EZ) Program expired on June 30, 2010. No new entrants will be admitted to the Program, but existing participants can continue to earn credits for several years. Taxpayers will be allowed to utilize the remainder of their five year period for the EZ wage tax credit and the remainder of their benefit period for the Qualified Empire Zone (QEZE) credits (15 or 10 years, depending on the date of first certification). Taxpayers will be allowed to earn additional Empire Zone Investment Tax Credit (EZ-ITC) until April 1, 2014, but qualified investment projects (QUIPs) can earn EZ-ITC for their next nine tax years. The Empire Zone Employment Incentive Credit (EZ-EIC) will be fully available for the three years after an EZ-ITC is claimed if the taxpayer meets the requisite employment tests. Finally, taxpayers can continue to earn the EZ capital

The credit rate is 10 percent for corporate taxpayers and 8 percent for personal income taxpayers.

Taxpayers may also claim an EZ-EIC similar to the regular EIC, based upon EZ-ITC claimed and employment increased within an EZ. The EZ-EIC is allowed only for those years during which the average number of employees (except general executive officers) in the EZ is at least 101 percent of the average number of employees (except general executive officers) in the EZ during the tax year immediately preceding the tax year for which the original EZ-ITC was allowed.

for each employee paid over $40,000 in wages. The EZ-WTC is available for five years. Taxpayers employing individuals in areas that met EZ eligibility criteria but were not so designated - Zone Equivalent Areas, or ZEAs - could claim a credit for ZEA wages paid for full-time employment in jobs created in the ZEA. The ZEA credit expired in 2004, but taxpayers are allowed to use carryforwards until exhausted. The total wage tax credit cannot exceed 50 percent of tax due before credits.

NOTE: Excess amounts of EZ-ITC and EZ-WTC are 50 percent refundable to new business taxpayers or taxpayers designated as owners of a qualified investment project (QUIP) or a significant capital investment project (SCIP). Owners of QUIPs or SCIPs may also refund 50 percent of excess EZ-EIC.

Credit Type: Non-refundable/Carryforward

Effective Date of Credit: Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1986

The credit equals 25 percent of the sum of each type of investment. The maximum credit per taxpayer is $100,000 for each investment type for an aggregate limit of $200,000 and cannot exceed one half of the taxpayer's pre-credit tax. Taxpayers may carry unused credits forward indefinitely.

d. QEZE Real Property Tax Credit

Citation: Section 14, Section 15, Section 187-j, Section 210-b(5), Section 606(bb), Section 1511(r)

Pre-Reform Citation: Section 210(27), Section 1456(o)

Credit Type: Refundable

Effective Date of Credit: PIT/CFT/Bank/Insurance - Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2001; Article 9, Section 185 Agricultural Cooperatives - Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2004

Description: For taxpayers certified prior to April 1, 2005, the QEZE real property tax credit (RPTC) is the product of three factors. The benefit period factor is 1.0 in the first ten years of certification, declining by 0.2 each year thereafter. The employment increase factor is based upon the QEZE's job growth. The final factor is the QEZE's real property taxes for the current tax year.

For taxpayers certified on or after April 1, 2005 and located in an Investment Zone (IZ), the credit equals 25 percent of the wages and health and retirement benefits of net new employees. Taxpayers located in a Development Zone (DZ) use the same formula but include an additional factor, the DZ employment increase factor, scaled to reward greater job increases. The credit can exceed these amounts if the capital investment limitation is greater, but the credit is capped at the amount of real property taxes.

Taxpayers certified on or after April 1, 2009 must reduce the computed credit amount by 25 percent.

e. QEZE Tax Reduction Credit

Citation: Section 14, Section 16, Section 210-b(6), Section 606(cc), Section 1511(s)

Pre-Reform Citation: Section 210(28), Section 1456(p)

Credit Type: Non-refundable/Non-carryforward

Effective Date of Credit: Effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2001

Description: The QEZE tax reduction credit is the product of four factors: the benefit period factor, the employment increase factor, the zone allocation factor, and the tax factor. The first two factors are discussed above. The zone allocation factor measures the QEZE's economic presence in the zone. The tax factor depends on the type of filer:

Tax Type	For Tax Years Beginning on or after January 1, 2016 the Tax Factor is:
Personal Income Tax	The amount of personal income tax attributable to allocated QEZE income
Corporation Franchise Tax	The QEZE's tax on the BI base
Insurance Tax	The greater of the QEZE's tax on the ENI or ENI plus compensation bases

For corporation franchise taxpayers located entirely within an EZ, the tax reduction credit can be applied against the fixed dollar minimum tax, potentially reducing a taxpayer's liability to zero.

5. Farmers' School Property Tax Credit

Citation: Section 210-b(11), Section 606(n)

Pre-Reform Citation: Section 210(22)

Credit Type: Refundable

Recapture provisions apply if the taxpayer converts the property to a nonqualified use in the two years subsequent to first use of the credit.

PIT Filers - For purposes of this test, total gross income is reduced by the sum (not to exceed $30,000) of earned income, pensions, social security, interest, and dividends. The credit begins to phase out for taxpayers with NYAGI in excess of $200,000, after subtracting principal on farm indebtedness, and is phased out completely at $300,000.

CFT Filers - The credit begins to phase out for taxpayers with New York entire net income in excess of $200,000 and is phased out completely at $300,000. Shareholders may elect to claim their pro rata share of the corporation's income and principal payments on farm indebtedness when determining the farmers' school tax credit. In such instances, the corporation does not claim any credit.

6. Credit for Employment of Persons with Disabilities

Citation: Section 187-a, Section 210-b(12), Section 606(o), Section 1511(j)

If the property is sold, transferred, or disposed of prior to the end of the holding period, the taxpayer must recapture a portion of the credit. Citation: Section 31, Section 210-b(32), Section 606(qq)

Pre-Reform Citation: Section 210(41)

Credit Type: Refundable – Over 2 Years

Credit Type: Refundable

Effective Date of Credit: Program effective in 2010; credit effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2011

Description: The Excelsior Jobs Program (EJP) Act was created by Chapter 59 of the Laws of 2010 and subsequently amended by Chapter 61 of the Laws of 2011. The program is administered by Empire State Development (ESD) and offers four tax credits focused on certain strategic industries. To claim credits, taxpayers must first apply to and be approved by ESD. The annual credit allocations are reduced beginning in 2016. As initially enacted, ESD could issue up to $50 million in new credit annually, with a fully effective annual total program cost of $250 million in 2015. For taxable years 2016 through 2021, the cap amount is lowered from $200 million per year to $183 million. In 2024, the amount is reduced from $50 million to $36 million. For taxable years 2025 through 2029, the cap is raised to $200 million in credit per year. ESD will calculate the amount of each credit annually and issue a certificate of tax credit to participants entitling them to the credits. As initially enacted, taxpayers were allowed to claim credits for five consecutive years. Pursuant to Chapter 61, participants accepted into the program after April 1, 2011 have a 10-year benefit period. ESD may award 100 percent of any unallocated tax credits remaining at the end of 2029. The aggregate statutory cap for all years may not be exceeded and no credits are allowed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2040. Enhancements have been made to the program in 2020 to add tax credits for green projects aimed at reducing greenhouse gas emissions and supporting the use of clean energy.

a. Excelsior Jobs Tax Credit

EJP participants may claim a credit for each net new job created in the State. For participants accepted into the program on or before April 1, 2011, the value of the credit cannot exceed $5,000 per new job and is computed on marginal wages plus benefit basis as follows:

- 5 percent of wages plus benefits of $50,000 or less;
- 4 percent of wages plus benefits between $50,001 and $75,000; and
- 1.33 percent of wages plus benefits over $75,000.

For taxpayers accepted into the program after April 1, 2011, the credit is equal to the gross wages multiplied by 6.85 percent. For green projects, the credit is equal to gross wages multiplied by 7.5 percent.

b. Excelsior Investment Tax Credit (EJP-ITC)

EJP participants may claim a credit equal to two percent of the cost of qualified investments in New York. The credit is increased to five percent of the cost of qualified investments for green projects and the construction of childcare service facilities. Taxpayers cannot claim both the EJP-ITC and the brownfield tangible property credit component for the same property in a given year. In addition, taxpayers accepted into the program on or before April 1, 2011 are prohibited from claiming both the EJP-ITC and the regular ITC.

For taxpayers accepted into the program on or before April 1, 2011, the credit is phased down ten percent a year over five years. 26. START-UP NY Tax Elimination Credit
Citation: Section 39, Section 40, Section 210-b(41), Section 606(ww)
Pre-Reform Citation: Section 210(47)
Credit Type: Refundable
Effective Date of Credit: Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2014
Description: The tax-free NY area tax elimination credit is available to general business corporations, sole proprietorships, partnerships (including limited liability companies taxed as partnerships), and New York S corporations participating in the SUNY Tax-Free Areas to Revitalize and Transform Upstate New York Program (START-UP NY). The credit is equal to the product of:
- the tax-free NY area allocation factor and
 - the tax factor.

The tax-free NY area allocation factor is the percentage of the business's economic presence in the tax-free NY area where the business was approved to locate under Article 21 of the Economic Development Law.

For Article 9-A taxpayers, the tax factor is the largest of the taxes on the business income base, capital base, or fixed dollar minimum tax after the deduction of any other credits. For Article 22 taxpayers, the tax factor is determined by reducing the individual's tax computed under section 601(a)-(d) of the Tax Law for the tax year by any other allowable credits and adjusting that reduced amount by the ratio of the income from business in the tax-free New York area to the taxpayer's New York adjusted gross income. In both cases, the ratios may not exceed 1.0.

For corporate franchise taxpayers, the credit cannot reduce the tax due below the fixed dollar minimum unless the taxpayer has a tax-free NY area allocation factor of 100%. In that instance, the tax can be reduced to zero. Any excess credit may be refunded. For personal income taxpayers, the credit may reduce the tax to zero and any excess may be refunded.

The credit may be claimed when the tax is separately stated on a bill from the telecommunication service provider and the bill has been paid by such business. If a taxpayer claimed any federal deduction for excise taxes on telecommunication services and also claims the START-UP NY telecommunication services excise tax credit, when computing the taxpayer's New York adjusted gross income (or New York taxable income in the case of an estate or trust), the taxpayer must add back the federal deduction amount for excise taxes on telecommunication services used in the calculation of the credit.

EXECUTIVE BUDGET

- 1. Increase the Existing Investment Tax Credit (ITC) for all New York State Farms

Background: Currently, the ITC is equal to four percent of the investment credit base under the personal income tax or five percent of the first $350 million of the investment credit base and four percent of the investment credit base in excess of $350 million under the corporate franchise tax.

Proposal: Subpart A of this bill would increase the credit under both the corporate franchise tax and the personal income tax to 20 percent of the investment credit base for eligible farmers for property principally used by the farmer in the production of goods by farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture or viticulture. Subpart A would take effect immediately and apply to property placed in service on or after April 1, 2022.

Discussion: This enhancement of the ITC found in Subpart A will provide farmers with a needed incentive to increase their investment in farming property. Specifically, an eligible farmer is a taxpayer whose federal gross income from farming for the taxable year is at least two-thirds of excess federal gross income. Excess federal gross income means the amount of federal gross income from all sources for the taxable year in excess of thirty thousand dollars.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.
- 2. Double the Farm Workforce Retention Credit and Extend through Tax Year 2025

Background: Farm employers are allowed a refundable credit equal to a fixed amount per eligible farm employee. For tax years 2021 through 2024 the credit is equal to $600 per eligible farm employee.

Proposal: This bill would increase the per-employee credit amount from $600 to $1,200 per eligible farm employee beginning tax year 2021. The bill would also extend the credit for an additional year through TY2025.

Discussion: The credit was originally available for tax years 2017 through 2021 with the per-employee amount phased-in annually until it reached the maximum $600 in 2021. The SFY 2021-22 Enacted Budget extended the $600 credit amount through TY2024. This bill would amend the Tax Law to effectively double the farm workforce retention credit for tax years 2021 through 2024 while adding an additional year to claim the credit in TY2025.

For tax years 2021 through 2025, farm employers would be able to claim $1,200 per eligible farm employee. This credit is retroactively applied to TY2021. Taxpayers claiming the credit and submitting a 2021 return prior to enactment would need to file an amended return.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.
- 3. Create the Farm Employer Overtime Credit

Background: Under the State's Farm Laborers Fair Labor Practices Act, enacted by Chapter 105 of the Laws of 2019, farm workers are entitled to overtime premium pay starting January 1, 2020, for any work they perform in excess of 60 hours per week. Pursuant to the Act, the Commissioner of Labor convened the Farm Laborers Wage Board to make recommendations as to overtime work and, specifically, the extent to which the overtime threshold for farm workers might be lowered below 60 hours per week and whether any such reduction should be phased in through a series of successively lower thresholds.

Proposal: This bill would create a new refundable credit for farm employers equal to the amount of overtime paid to their employees as a result of any changes to the overtime threshold recommended by the Board and made by the Commissioner of Labor.

Discussion: The Farm Laborers Fair Labor Practices Act included a Wage Order whereby farm workers are entitled to 1 and ½ times their regular rate of pay for any hours worked over 60 in a calendar week. Since the Wage Order went into effect January 1, 2020, the Commissioner of Labor and Farm Laborers Wage Board has subsequently considered lowering the 60-hour overtime threshold to as little as 40 hours per week. This would significantly increase the cost of labor for farm employers, particularly those who rely on seasonal employees to work more than 40 hours per week to maximize their harvest. To alleviate the cost, the Board has recommended an annual phase-in of the new threshold.

This credit is intended to completely offset any new labor costs that would result from overtime paid by the farm employer pursuant to a new threshold below the current 60-hour overtime threshold. The credit rate per excess hour worked is equal to the overtime rate less the regular rate of pay. The credit may only be claimed against the total number of hours worked in a calendar week that exceeds the new overtime threshold set by the Commissioner of Labor. Any hours worked in excess of the current 60-hour threshold are not eligible for the credit. The employee's regular rate of pay will not be compensated by the credit.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

4. Create the COVID-19 Capital Costs Tax Credit Program

Background: The COVID-19 pandemic forced small businesses to incur costs to comply with public health and/or other emergency orders or regulations to increase customer and employee safety in their locations.

Proposal: This bill would add a new Article 26 to the Economic Development Law to establish the COVID Capital Costs Tax Credit Program. The amount of the credit under the program would be capped at $250 million and would be administered by the Department of Economic Development (DED). This bill would also make the tax credit applicable to the corporation franchise tax and personal income tax under Tax Law Articles 9-A and 22. This bill would take effect immediately.

Discussion: The refundable credit would be available to small businesses with $2.5 million or less of gross receipts. Small businesses that incurred costs from January 1, 2021, through December 31, 2022, to comply with public health or other emergency orders or regulations related to the COVID-19 pandemic, or to increase the safety of their business locations as it relates to infectious disease migration, including those related to social distancing, sanitization, and air purification, would be eligible for a credit of 50 percent of their qualifying costs, up to $25,000, allowed in the taxable year that includes their DED application deadline. By reducing costs incurred by small businesses to comply with COVID-19 related orders and regulations, the

State can continue on the path of reinvigorating the economy and making businesses safer for all New Yorkers.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

5. Make Technical Corrections to NYC Musical and Theatrical Production Tax Credit

Background: Subpart B of Part PP of Chapter 59 of the Laws of 2021 created the New York City Musical and Theatrical Production Tax Credit to assist New York City based musical and theatrical productions severely impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. The credit is first effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2021 and expires on January 1, 2024.

The refundable credit, administered by Empire State Development (ESD) and allowed to production companies taxable under Articles 9-A and 22, is equal to 25 percent of qualified production expenditures paid during the qualified New York City musical and theatrical production's credit period. The credit is capped at $3 million per production whose first performance is during the first year in which applications are accepted and $1.5 million per production for productions whose first performance is during the second year in which applications are accepted. The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed is $100 million and is allocated based upon the date of filing an application with ESD.

Subpart B also established a Cultural Programs Fund for the purpose of supplementing art and cultural programs for secondary and elementary children.

Proposal: This bill would amend the New York City musical and theatrical production credit to extend the application deadline and the time that the individual $3 million cap is available, double the funding for the credit and clarify how contributions made by theater producers to the Council on the Arts should be spent. The bill would take effect immediately.

Discussion: This bill would amend Tax Law to:

- (1) extend the $3 million per production cap to productions who have their first performance prior to January 1, 2023;
- (2) extend the credit period from March 31, 2023 to September 30, 2023;
- (3) double the overall dollar cap on the program from $100 million to $200 million;
- (4) extend the application deadline for the program from December 31, 2022 to June 30, 2023;
- (5) clarify how the money required to be contributed by theatrical productions to the New York State Council on the Arts Cultural Programs Fund is to be spent; and
- (6) make a technical correction to ensure that the obligation of producers to make contributions to the Fund continues until December 31, 2025.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

6. Extend and Enhance the Hire-A-Vet Tax Credit

Background: A business can claim a nonrefundable tax credit if it hires a qualified veteran who begins employment on or after January 1, 2014, but before January 1, 2022, and employs the qualified veteran in New York State for one year or more for at least 35 hours each week.

The taxpayer claims the credit in the tax year in which the qualified veteran completes one year of employment. The credit may be claimed for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2015, but before January 1, 2023.

If the qualified veteran is	Amount of credit is equal to
Disabled	15% of the total wages paid to the veteran during the veteran's first full year of employment, but the credit cannot be more than $15,000 per veteran
Not disabled	10% of the total wages paid to the veteran during the veteran's first full year of employment, but the credit cannot be more than $5,000 per veteran

Proposal: This bill would extend the Hire-a-Vet tax credit by an additional three years, increase the amount of the credit, and expand the definition of qualified veteran.

Discussion: This bill would extend the Hire-a-Vet tax credit by an additional three years. The credit is currently set to expire January 1, 2023 and would now expire January 1, 2026.

The bill would expand the definition of qualified veterans by:

- Adding Space Force veterans to the definition of qualified veteran; and
- Eliminating the requirement that the veteran be discharged after September 11, 2001.

Additionally, it would increase the amount of the credit for non-disabled veterans from 10 percent to 15 percent, the same as disabled veterans. It also increases the maximum credit amount for all qualified veterans that are employed full time to $15,000, and establishes a credit for qualified part-time veterans with a $7,500 cap.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

7. Provide Tax Credits for the Phase Out of Grade No. 6 Fuel Oil

Background: Chapter 591 of the Laws of 2021 enacted En Con Law Section 10-0329 to prohibit, starting July 1, 2023, the use of grade no. 6 heating oil for heating any building or facility in New York State.

Proposal: This proposal creates a refundable tax credit for the costs incurred by taxpayers that convert from grade no. 6 heating oil usage to biodiesel fuel or geothermal system.

Discussion: Taxpayers that meet certain eligibility requirements may claim a refundable tax credit equal to 50% of the conversion costs for all of that taxpayers' buildings located in a municipality paid by the taxpayer on or after January 1, 2022 and before July 1, 2023. The credit is capped at $500,000 per municipality and the costs associated with this conversion cannot be used for any other tax credit.

EXECUTIVE BUDGET

To be eligible, a business must:

- Incur expenses for the conversion from grade no. 6 heating oil fuel to biodiesel heating oil or a geothermal system at any building located in New York State outside New York City;
- Submit an application to and obtain approval from NYSERDA describing the conversion and costs to complete such conversion;
- Not be principally engaged in the generation or distribution of electricity, power or energy;
- Be in compliance with all environmental conservation laws and regulations; and
- Not owe past due state taxes unless the business entity is making payments and complying with an approved binding payment agreement entered into with the taxing authority.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

8. Increase the State Low Income Housing Credit Aggregate Cap

Background: The New York State low-income housing tax credit program, based on the existing federal program, requires an agreement between the taxpayer and the Commissioner of the New York State Division of Housing and Community Renewal (DHCR) for a long-term commitment to low-income housing. The amount of the credit depends on the applicable percentage of the qualified basis of each low-income building. The credit amount allocated by DHCR is allowed as a credit against tax for ten tax years. Unused credits may be carried forward indefinitely.

Proposal: This bill would increase the aggregate dollar amount allocable for the state low-income housing tax credit by $7 million for each of the next four years.

Discussion: Current law increases the annual allotment by $8 million annually, e.g. from $120 million in SFY 2022-23 to $128 million in SFY 2023-24. These allotments would be increased by $7 million annually. Thus, the currently scheduled increase to $120 million SFY 2022-23 is now increased to $127 million, and each subsequent year's allotment will increase in aggregate by $15 million, e.g. from $127 million in SFY 2022-23 to $142 million in SFY 2023-24 comprised of the current law $8 million increase plus the new $7 million increase in this proposal.

The specific annual increases would be as follows:

- from $120 million to $127 million in SFY 2022-23;
- from $128 million to $142 million in SFY 2023-24;
- from $136 million to $157 million in SFY 2024-25;
- from $144 million to $172 million in SFY 2025-26.

The bill would take effective immediately; provided however, that the increase from $120m to $127m would take effective April 1, 2022; the $128m to $142m increase would take effect April 1, 2023; the $136m to $157m increase would take effect April 1, 2024 and the $144m to $172m increase would take effect April 1, 2025.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

9. Extend Clean Heating Fuel Credit

Background: The clean heating fuel credit provides a refundable credit for bioheating fuel to be used for space heating or hot water production for residential purposes within New York State. Bioheating fuel purchased on or after January 1, 2017, must contain at least 6% biodiesel per gallon of bioheating fuel to qualify for the credit.

The credit is equal to one cent for each percent of biodiesel per gallon of bioheating fuel purchased before January 1, 2023. It may not exceed 20 cents per gallon.

Proposal: This bill would extend the clean heating fuel credit by an additional three years.

Discussion: The credit is currently set to expire on January 1, 2023. With the extension the credit would now be set to expire on January 1, 2026.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

10. Extend the Credit for Companies Who Provide Transportation to Individuals with Disabilities

Background: A company is entitled to a nonrefundable tax credit if it

- incurs an incremental cost for upgrading a vehicle used in providing a taxicab or livery service so that it is accessible to persons with disabilities; or
- purchases certain new vehicles that are accessible to persons with disabilities.

The credit is equal to:

- the incremental cost (the cost associated with upgrading a vehicle used in providing a taxicab or livery service so that it is accessible to someone with disabilities), up to $10,000 per vehicle; or
- $10,000 per vehicle for the purchase of new vehicles that:
 - are initially manufactured to be accessible to people with disabilities; and
 - do not have a comparable make and model that excludes the equipment needed to make it accessible to someone with disabilities.

The credit may only be claimed once per vehicle.

Proposal: This bill would extend the credit by six years.

Discussion: This bill extends the credit for companies who provide transportation to individuals with disabilities by an additional six years. The credit is currently set to expire at the end of 2022, but would now expire at the end of 2028.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

11. Extend the Empire State Film Credit and Post-Production Credit for Three Years

Background: Taxpayers satisfying a threshold level of film production activity in New York State may claim the Empire State film production credit. The credit equals 25 percent of qualified production costs incurred in the production of films and certain television shows. The Empire State film production and post-production projects are eligible for an additional credit equal to 10 percent of the wages or salaries of individuals employed by a qualified film or independent film production company for services performed in specific Upstate New York counties. Credit is awarded on a first come, first served basis with applications made to the New York State Governor's Office for Motion Picture and Television Development (MP/TV). Companies that are ineligible for the film production credit may qualify for the film post-production credit.

EXECUTIVE BUDGET

To be eligible for the post-production credit, the costs incurred at a qualified post-production facility, generally a facility in New York State, must equal or exceed 75 percent of the total post-production costs at any post-production facility.

Currently, for certificates of tax credit issued on or after January 1, 2020, productions contribute one-quarter of one percent of the film production credit allowed to the Empire State Entertainment Diversity Job Training Development Fund.

Proposal: This bill would extend the Empire State film production credit and the Empire State film post-production credit, increase the diversity job training fund contribution amount, and require credit applicants to submit a diversity plan for the hiring of a diverse workforce. The bill would take effect immediately.

Discussion: This bill would extend both the Empire State film production and post-production credits by three years. The credits are currently available for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015 and before January 1, 2027. Both credits would now be available for tax years beginning before January 1, 2030.

Furthermore, the bill would require that, on or after January 1, 2023, taxpayers receiving a film production credit contribute one-half of one percent of the credit allowed to the Empire State Entertainment Diversity Job Training Development Fund.

Lastly, the bill would require productions applying for the film credit on or after January 1, 2023 to file a diversity plan with the Governor's Office of Motion Picture and Television Development outlining specific goals for hiring a diverse workforce.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

12. Extend the New York Youth Jobs Program Tax Credit

Background: The New York Youth Jobs Program tax credit offers a refundable credit to businesses that:

- are certified by the New York State Department of Labor (DOL) to participate in the New York Youth Jobs Program;
- hire qualified employees between the ages of 16 to 24 that must start work between January 1 and December 31 of the program year in which the business is participating; and
- receive an annual final certificate from DOL.

The DOL must have received the application for certification by November 30, of the program year for which a company is applying.

Proposal: This bill would extend the New York Youth Jobs Program Tax Credit for an additional five years

Discussion: The New York Youth Jobs Program is currently set to expire on December 31, 2022. This would push the expiration date to December 31, 2027.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

13. Extend the Empire State Apprenticeship Tax Credit

Background: The Empire State apprenticeship tax credit provides a refundable tax credit if a business certified under the New York State Registered Apprenticeship Program hires a qualified apprentice and:

- is a qualified employer certified by the New York State Department of Labor (DOL) in the Empire State Apprenticeship Tax Credit (ESATC) Program, and
- received a Final Certificate of Tax Credit from the New York State DOL.

The base credit is equal to:

Year of apprenticeship	Credit amount per apprentice	Credit amount per disadvantaged youth apprentice
1st year	$2,000	$5,000
2nd year	$3,000	$6,000
3rd year	$4,000	$7,000
4th year	$5,000	$7,000
5th year	$6,000	$7,000

If an apprentice has been trained in their trade by a mentor for the entirety of the calendar year, the base credit amounts in the above table will be increased by $500.

Proposal: This proposal would extend the Empire State apprenticeship tax credit program for an additional five years.

Discussion: This credit is currently available through 2022. The proposal would extend the credit through 2027.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

14. Extend the Alternative Fuel and EV Recharging Property Credit

Background: The alternative fuel and electric vehicle charging property credit is a nonrefundable credit for investments in new alternative fuel vehicle refueling property or electric vehicle recharging property for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2013.

The credit for each installation of property is equal to the lesser of $5,000 or 50% of the cost of property, less any cost paid from the proceeds of grants, that:

- is located in New York State;
- is used 50% or more during the tax year in a trade or business carried on in New York State;
- constitutes alternative fuels vehicle refueling property or electric vehicle refueling property; and
- has not been paid for from the proceeds of grants awarded before January 1, 2015, including grants from the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority or the New York Power Authority.

EXECUTIVE BUDGET

Proposal: This proposal would extend the credit for five years.

Discussion: The credit is currently set to expire on December 31, 2022. This proposal would extend the credit through 2027.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

15. Extend the Workers with Disabilities Credit

Background: The workers with disabilities tax credit provides a nonrefundable credit to a business that employs individuals with disabilities in New York State and:

- is a participant in the Workers with Disabilities Tax Credit Program;
- paid qualified wages after January 1, 2015, to a qualified employee; and
- received a final Certificate of Eligibility from the Department of Labor (DOL).

Proposal: This proposal would extend the workers with disabilities tax credit for an additional six years.

Discussion: The current credit is set to expire January 1, 2023; this would extend the end date of the program to January 1, 2029.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

16. Eliminate the Investment Tax Credit (ITC) for Production of Master Tapes

Background: The original intent of the ITC was to incentivize manufacturers to modernize, upgrade or build new manufacturing facilities in New York. The accounting treatment of program masters assigns a cost basis, which is the basis of the ITC, equal to all the costs incurred to produce the content on a master tape. Thus, it includes all the costs of filming and producing the content, which can be millions of dollars. Moreover, none of that activity has to occur in New York to generate the credit; it is sufficient that the completed master merely be located in New York.

Proposal: This bill would amend the corporate franchise tax and personal income tax to provide that the ITC is not allowed with respect to tangible personal property and other tangible property principally used by the taxpayer in the creation, production, or reproduction, in any medium, of any audio or visual recording, including but not limited to films, television shows, commercials, and musical recordings. This bill would take effect immediately and would apply to property placed in service on or after January 1, 2023.

Discussion: Absent this statutory fix, a credit meant to encourage manufacturing, investment, and job growth in New York can continue to be used to support activities and jobs outside of the State.

Furthermore, the majority of the current ITC claimed is from the cost of master tapes.

Lastly, it should be noted that many of the costs incurred in the production of a master would qualify for the Empire State Film Tax Credit, which is the nation's most generous film subsidy and provides a much higher benefit than the ITC.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23

17. Extend and Enhance the Brownfield Cleanup Program

Background: For tax years beginning on or after April 1, 2005, a taxpayer participating in the Brownfield Cleanup Program (BCP) who enters into a brownfield site cleanup agreement (BCA) with the Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) may be eligible for the brownfield redevelopment tax credit. To qualify for the credit, a taxpayer must have been issued a Certificate of Completion (COC) by the Commissioner of Environmental Conservation.

The brownfield redevelopment tax credit is a credit allowed against the New York State taxes imposed on corporate taxpayers under Article 9, sections 183 or 184, or Article 9-A, or 33 and on individual taxpayers under Article 22 of the Tax Law.

The credit is the sum of the following three separate and distinct credit components, computed each tax year, for eligible costs incurred in the remediation or redevelopment of a qualified site:

- the site preparation credit component,
- the tangible property credit component, and
- the on-site groundwater remediation credit component.

There are currently three program generations, each with slightly different rules and credit rates, based upon the date that a project is accepted into the BCP. However, no credits are allowed to sites accepted after 2022, and sites accepted prior to 2023 must obtain a COC on or before March 31, 2026.

Proposal: This bill would extend and update the Brownfield Cleanup Program (BCP) by providing new categories of eligibility for tangible property credits, establishing a program fee to pay for staff, and extending the site preparation and groundwater remediation credits for sites that may have been unable to complete work due to the COVID-19 pandemic. It would also extend the sunset date of the program by ten years. The bill would take effect immediately.

Discussion: The bill adds to the Environmental Conservation Law three new categories of eligibility for the tangible property credit component of the brownfield redevelopment credit. Each category generates an additional five percent credit. Specifically, they are:

1. A conforming BOA site, defined as a site located within an area designated as a brownfield opportunity area
2. Disadvantaged Communities
3. Renewable energy facility site, defined as real property:
 - a. That is primarily used for any renewable energy system;
 - b. Any co-located system storing energy generated from such a renewable energy system prior to delivering it to the bulk transmission, sub-transmission, or distribution system; or
 - c. Any standalone system storing energy interconnected into New York's bulk transmission system or an Investor-Owned Utility's (IOU) transmission or distribution system providing distribution services, wholesale market energy, ancillary services, and/or capacity services

The bill would also require payment of a non-refundable program fee of $50,000 after acceptance into the program.

EXECUTIVE BUDGET

Additionally, the bill extends the site preparation and groundwater remediation credit periods from 5 years to 7 years for sites that may have been unable to complete work due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The extension is for qualified sites for which a COC has been issued on or after July 1, 2015 but on or before June 24, 2021.

Lastly, this bill would extend the eligibility for the BCP tax credit to sites accepted into the program through December 31, 2032, and the COC requirement to December 31, 2036.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

18. Provide Small Business Tax Relief

Background: Since tax year 2014, sole proprietors and farm businesses have been allowed to subtract a certain percentage of qualifying small business and/or farm income from their adjusted gross income (AGI) in calculating their personal income tax liability. Under current law, the modification equals 5 percent of the net items of income, gain, loss, and deduction attributable to a business or farm included in federal adjusted gross income. For purposes of claiming the subtraction modification, the small business must be a sole proprietor or farm business employing one or more persons during the taxable year that has net business income or net farm income greater than $0 but less than $250,000. Limited liability companies, partnerships and S corporations that are farm businesses are included.

Proposal: This proposal would increase the current small business modification to 15 percent of net business income or net farm income included in the taxpayer's FGI.

In addition, the 15 percent exclusion is expanded to include members of partnerships, LLCs, and S-corporations with New York gross business income attributable to a non-farm business of up to $1.5 million. To claim the exclusion, a taxpayer's share of flow-through income from all partnerships, LLCs, or S corporations (including ones that are not small businesses) attributable to a non-farm business must be less than $250,000 in the aggregate.

The proposal includes conforming amendments for New York City tax law.

Discussion: Sole proprietors and farm businesses currently claiming the 5% subtraction will recognize further tax savings from the new 15% exclusion rate.

The proposal also expands the program base by including members of partnerships, LLCs, and S-Corporations. To qualify for the exclusion, the individual members must satisfy 2 requirements:

1. Entity-Level Test: The individual's share of qualified income must be sourced to an entity with less than $1.5 million in New York gross business income attributable to a non-farm business
2. Individual Partner/Shareholder/Member Test: The individual's share of income from ALL non-farm flow-through entities (including those with more than $1.5 million in NY gross income) must be less than $250,000 in the aggregate.

Only the taxpayer’s share of income from a qualifying entity will qualify for the exclusion.

Revenue: This proposal would decrease state revenues by $100 million in SFY2022-23.

19. Exempt Student Loan Forgiveness Awards

Background: The NYS Higher Education Services Corporation makes monetary awards under several student loan forgiveness programs described in Article 14 of the New York State Education Law to attract employees to certain necessary professions (e.g., nursing, social work, or farming). These payments are considered taxable income for both Federal and New York State income tax purposes.

Proposal: The proposed legislation would add a new subtraction to the Tax Law to exclude the amount of these awards from New York State income tax.

Discussion: Forgiven debt of any kind is typically subject to tax unless specifically exempted. This proposal would relieve students of the burden of paying State income tax on the value of these awards.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

20. Create the Homeowner Tax Rebate Credit

Proposal: This proposal creates another homeowner tax rebate credit providing temporary property tax relief to New York homeowners by issuing a new advanced tax credit payment for 2022.

Discussion: The new credit would be issued as an advanced check payment to resident taxpayers with income below $250,000 and who own and reside in property receiving Basic or Enhanced STAR. The amount of the credit is a percentage of the property’s Basic or Enhanced STAR savings, whichever applies, for the 2021-2022 school year and varies based on a progressive income-based schedule.

Credit Percentage of 2021 Basic STAR Savings

Qualified Gross Income	Outside NYC	NYC
$75,000 or less	163%	125%
$75,000 - $150,000	115%	115%
$150,000 - $200,000	66%	105%
$200,000 - $250,000	18%	100%
Over $250,000	No Credit	No Credit

Credit Percentage of 2021 Enhanced STAR Savings

Qualified Gross Income	Outside NYC	NYC
$250,000 or less	66%	110%
Over $250,000	No Credit	No Credit

This new credit is a one-time payment for TY2022. Income eligibility will be determined using TY2020 individual returns. No credit will be paid if the determined amount is less than $100.

EXECUTIVE BUDGET

Revenue: This proposal would decrease state revenues by $2.2 billion in SFY2022-23

21. Allow Use of College Savings Accounts (529 Accounts) for Apprenticeship Programs

Background: Qualified apprenticeship expenses are allowed under 529 accounts for Federal purposes under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), but are currently considered non-qualifying withdrawals for New York State income tax purposes.

Proposal: The proposed budget legislation would make qualified apprenticeship expenses eligible for spending out of college savings (529) accounts for New York State purposes.

Discussion: This proposal is an initiative to expand access to apprenticeship programs in New York State by providing similar treatment under Federal and New York State Tax Law.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

22. Exempt Healthcare Worker Bonus Payments from State and Local Income Tax

Background: The SFY 2022-23 Executive Budget is proposing a bonus payment of up to $3,000 for qualified healthcare workers earning up to $100,000 annually.

Proposal: The proposal would exempt these bonus payments from state and local income tax.

Discussion: Qualified healthcare workers receiving an annualized base salary of $100,000 or less may be eligible for a bonus payment of up to $3,000. The bonus payments will be divided into 2 vesting periods. The 1st vesting period must begin before April 1, 2023 and the total combined periods may not exceed 1 year.

The bonus payment varies based on average hours worked per week during each vesting period:

Average Hours per Weel	Bonus Payment
20 – 30 hours	$500
30 – 40 hours	$1,000
40 or more hours	$1,500

An employee who averages more than 40 hours per week in both vesting periods would receive $1,500 for each period, for a total bonus payment of $3,000.

Revenue: This proposal would have no effect on state revenues in SFY 2022-23.

23. Exempt Certain Short-Term Vacation Rentals from Sales Tax

Background: Sales tax is imposed on the rent for hotel occupancy. Hotel occupancies for a permanent resident (i.e., an occupant for at least 90 consecutive days) and where the rent is $2.00 or less per day are exempt from sales tax. A short term rental, such as a house, apartment, condominium, or a room therein is not subject to the sales tax imposed on hotel occupancy.

Proposal: The 2022-23 Executive Budget would impose tax on short-term vacation rentals and require vacation rental marketplace providers to collect tax on the occupancies that they facilitate.

Discussion: Following the exemptions for the tax on hotel occupancy, this bill would exempt vacation rentals where the occupant is a permanent resident and when the rent is $2.00 or less per day.

Revenue: This proposal would reduce revenue in SFY 2022-23 by a minimal amount.

24. Exempt Certain Water Vessels from the Petroleum Business Tax

Background: Tugboat and towboat operators have had continued difficulty with accurately determining the quantity of taxable fuel burned in interstate waters.

Proposal: This proposal would exempt motor fuel, diesel motor fuel, or residual petroleum product used by tugboats and towboats from the Petroleum Business Tax under Article 13-A. The proposal would also allow tugboats and towboats to apply for reimbursement where the tax has already been paid.

Discussion: Current law provides similar relief from the Petroleum Business Tax for other industries engaged in interstate commerce or transportation, including commercial fishers and passenger commuter ferries. Exempting tugboats and towboats from the Petroleum Business Tax and allowing reimbursement when the tax has already been paid would promote consistent treatment of the different water vessels.

Revenue: This proposal would reduce state tax revenues in SFY 2022-23 by $1.0 million.

GLOSSARY

Business Income: Business income for Article 9-A taxpayers generally equals ENI minus other exempt income and investment income.

Business Income Base: The taxable income base for Article 9-A taxpayers. It is computed by subtracting the prior net operating loss conversion subtraction and net operating loss deduction from apportioned business income.

Compensating Use Tax: Tax levied on tangible personal property and services for its consumption, storage, or use in the State of residency upon which sales tax has not been collected.

Corporate Exemption: The partial or full statutory exemption of certain types of business entities from taxation.

Credit Earned: The amount of credit generated in the current tax year.

Credit Claimed: The amount of credit which taxpayers have available during the taxable year. Taxpayers determine this by adding credit earned in the current year to any unused credit from prior years and subtracting any applicable credit recapture. The claimed amount also reflects the imposition of any statutory limitations.

Credit Used: The amount of credit which taxpayers actually apply to their tax liability.

Credit Carried Forward: Any unused amount of credit which is allowed to be used to offset tax liability in future years. The amount of credit carried forward is determined by subtracting the amount of credit used or refunded in the current year from the amount of credit claimed.

Credit Refunded: Unused credit amounts requested as a refund or applied against the next liability period. These are requested amounts from the tax return, not necessarily amounts actually paid. Refund requests are subject to audit and adjustment by the Tax Department and the Office of the State Comptroller.

GLOSSARY

Deferral: The legal authorization to delay the obligation to pay tax to a future period (e.g., a future tax year).

Dependent Exemptions: A fixed amount that is subtracted from New York Adjusted Gross Income for an individual's dependents, not including the taxpayer or spouse.

Entire Net Income (ENI): ENI equals federal taxable income after certain additions and subtractions for items that New York treats differently. The major adjustment in the computation of ENI for most taxpayers is the exclusion of certain income received from related entities not included in the New York combined group.

Excise Tax: A fixed, per unit tax imposed on a commodity or commodities (e.g., 11 cents per gallon of beer).

Exclusion/Exemption: The statutory elimination of certain items or transactions from the tax base.

Federal Adjusted Gross Income (FAGI): The amount of Federal income earned or received during the income year after certain exclusions and adjustments. Major exclusions from gross income include many government transfer payments, employer-provided pension contributions and fringe benefits, most capital gains from the sale of a primary residence, and a portion of social security benefits. Federal Conformity: The extent to which State tax laws adopt or conform to various provisions of Federal Tax Law.

Federal Taxable Income (FTI): The amount of taxable income before certain deductions reported by a corporate taxpayer on its Federal tax return. It does not include the Federal net operating loss deduction or the special Federal deductions for dividends received.

Franchise Tax: A tax imposed on business corporations for the privilege of conducting business in the State.

Gross Receipts Tax: Tax levied on the total receipts (e.g., income from sales) of a business.

Itemized Deductions: Individual deductions that are subtracted from New York Adjusted Gross Income and are applied in lieu of a standard deduction.

New York Adjusted Gross Income (NYAGI): The amount of Federal adjusted gross income earned or received during the income year after certain modifications and before the subtraction of either the standard deduction or itemized deductions, and dependent exemptions. For example, New York State income tax refunds, included in FAGI, are subtracted in determining NYAGI.

Standard Deduction: A statutorily fixed amount, determined by filing status, subtracted from New York adjusted gross income.

Tangible Personal Property: Corporeal personal property of any nature.

Tax Expenditure: Features of the Tax Law that by exemption, exclusion, deduction, allowance, credit, preferential tax rate, deferral, or other statutory device, reduce the amount of taxpayers' liabilities to the State by providing either economic incentives or tax relief to particular classes of persons or entities, to achieve a public purpose.

Taxable Income: The amount to which the applicable tax rate is applied. Taxable income is gross income (prior to any adjustments) minus modifications, deductions, and exemptions.

Tax Liability: The amount of tax required to be paid by a taxpayer.

Transfer Tax: A tax imposed on the transfer of tangible personal property (e.g., real property) from one individual or entity to another.
