

How can this state justify and further support gambling entities, the illegal one in Verona or a new one in Buffalo when it is clear that there is more fiscal harm than good?? State budget deficits exist in part due to the obvious drain of wealth, increased social and legal costs and, of course, loss of money available to support the other aspects of the local economy to generate taxes. There is entirely inadequate funding for treatment of gambling addiction, growing rapidly and affecting families terribly. Youth problem gambling is climbing, as well! It's time to wake up and correct the horrible phony reliance on gambling "revenues "[which are actually losses!!
