

Kevin Figler Testimonial

The whole Medicaid system is too bureaucratic and needs to be simplified, but not by cutting programs. Home and Community based services, controlled by the individual getting services, will save the state millions of dollars. These services are substantially cheaper than keeping people in Nursing Homes. To get people out of Nursing Homes, more accessible housing is a necessity. Also, state funding for the Center for Disability Rights, to better serve people with Disabilities, should be a priority.