

I have lived in ny and raised 4 children in this state but now face the decision of selling the family home because of the immense burden school tax puts on ONE group of people ...the home owners! Ny MUST consider an income based method of funding schools..it would be an equitable choice providing a fair distribution of the cost as well as adequate funds to provide a good education..

I worked for 32 yrs as a state RN and believe that if the state paid for teachers in the same system as healthcare workers and RESTRUCTURED the districts so you have a COUNTY administration instead of many town districts with several administrators the cost of the reduction in top heavy leadership would almost pay for itself to start...

PLEASE be the leadership NY needs to save itself from the exodus of the middleclass....
